Suspect In Bilking Of Banks Is Found

Captured In Mill Valley; Money Orders Are Found

A 35-year-old San Francisco woman, suspected of bilking Bay Area banks of thousands of dollars with forged American Express Co. money orders, was nabbed yesterday by Mill Valley police after she was recognized in the Bank of America.

Police were called to the bank at 60 Throckmorton Avenue. As they arrived, Dolores Jean Benton, 35, who had been attempting to cash a money order, ran from the building.

She was chased by a bank official but escaped, running up Bernard Street, then down a small alley, and hiding behind the Mill Valley Men's Shop.

Dressed expensively and wearing a smart red hat, she was found by police lying in a drainage ditch in the alley.

17 FORGERIES

San Francisco police, he said, have reports of 17 money order forgeries, some of which have been traced to a person answering Miss Benton's description. Walsh estimated the losses represent "several thousands of dollars."

He said Miss Benton passed an American Express money order at the Mill Valley Bank of America about a month ago. It was returned to the bank, American Express noting that the amount had been raised from that from which it was issued.

ENTERS BANK

Yesterday at about 11 a.m., Miss Benton entered the bank and asked teller Carole Esposti to cash an American Express money order. Miss Esposti referred the money order to operations manager Richard Martin, he telephoned police.

As Lieutenant Walsh arrived with Patrolmen John Castellani and Douglas Stone, Miss Benton ran west on Throckmorton Avenue, Martin in pursuit. Martin

Recreation, Open Space Plan Backed

By GILES BIXLER

Several Marin County supervisors and members of the county parks and recreation commission rallied last night to the support of the proposed county master plan for parks, recreation and open space—and of its author.

But they agreed the plan needs more study, after commission chairman Gibbs H. Lawson said he was "extremely disappointed" in last night's joint meeting, the board and commission set another joint session for March 8.

The plan came under fire at a county planning commission Mary Summers, president of the Marin Conservation League, who said it was a work program, not a master plan.

"I think your presentation was brilliant," Supervisor By-

Feuding Laos Rightists Exchange Fire

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Artillery fire was exchanged 20 miles east of Vientiane today between feuding rightist factions of Laos' national army, but an agreement was later reported reached for a peaceful settlement.

Three soldiers of Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, military governor of Vientiane and deputy chief of staff, were killed in the fight. Three other persons had been killed in a clash Sunday between Kouprasith's troops and soldiers of a group of young officers who staged an abortive uprising with the avowed aim of reforming the army high command.

The Laotian developments were described by some diplomatic observers as aspects of a nonpolitical intramilitary fight. If rules of strict military disciplines were to be observed, the young officers' action was mutiny to oust the high command led by the chief of staff, Gen. Ouane Rathikoun, and Gen. Kouprasith.

The opposing officers were reported to have reached an agreement in late afternoon talk at the U.S. Embassy.

Racketeers Held In Bank Business

Congressmen See Investigation Need

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Wright Patman (D-Tex), of the House Banking Committee said today racketeers were moving into the banking business.

Patman made the statement to the House Rules Committee in defense of his group's recent effort to list major stockholders of banks in the Federal Reserve System.

His remarks followed the disclosure by Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who said his Senate investigations subcommittee planned to look into the failure of several federally insured banks said to have fallen into the hands of "persons of unsavory character."

INSURED AGENCIES

In a letter justifying his committee's $435,000 spending request, McClellan said the investigation would "involve only banking institutions insured by agencies of the federal government."

Patman said that although his committee's list of bank stockholders was incomplete, he felt the group had performed a "great service" by demonstrating "that we don't know who owns the banks in this country."

It showed that big interests in many banks are held by "nominees" or other unidentified owners, he said.

'GREAT BASE'

Patman said "the racketeering element in the United States was entering into the banking business." He added, "they are seeking ways of bettering their condition with the federal government."

"Having charge of a bank gives them a great base of operations." He said "it's going to be disclosed, I think, that certain banks have been bought out lock, stock and barrel by the hoodlums of the country."

National Bank Probe 'After Dust Settles'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Congress probably will not investigate the closing of the San Francisco National bank until "after the dust settles," according to Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, a key member of the Senate Banking Committee.

Bennett said in Washington yesterday that the situation was "still pretty hot," and he and Committee Chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., agreed it was best not to hold any investigation at this time.

U.S. Comptroller James J. Saxon declared the bank insolvent Jan. 22. Later it was reported that the FBI was investigating to determine if there had been any law violations in the management of the bank.

Bennett said the results of examinations of the bank were confidential, and any investigations by the Justice Department might be hampered by public scrutiny by a Senate committee.

"A part of our problem is that we're not anxious to destroy the confidence of the American public in banks," he said. "I don't think that the

King Stays In Jail; More Alabama Negroes Arrested

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Sheriff James Clark arrested scores of Negroes today when they staged a right to vote demonstration while their leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., remained in jail.

The Negroes had lined up outside the Dallas County Courthouse and asked to talk with someone on the Voter Registration Board even though the board was not in session.

One of their spokesmen had said before the march began that the demonstration was to seek a way to get the board to remain open more often.

City police arrested King and more than 250 other Negroes Monday when they sought to march to the courthouse in one formation, and charged them with parading without a permit. Today they allowed the demonstrators to walk unmolested because they moved in small groups.

Public Safety Director Wilson Baker said that did not constitute a parade.

At the courthouse, leaders of the group started in the front door and were told by Clark that the registrars were not in session. He ordered them away and then pushed them back when they refused to move.

As others joined the line, Clark told them they were interfering with the orderly procedure of Circuit Court which is in the building, and that they would be arrested for contempt of court if they refused to disperse.

When they continued to stand in line, Clark told them they were under arrest for contempt. He loaded them aboard waiting buses to take them to jail.

An aide, the Rev. Andrew Young of Atlanta, Ga., told a news conference that King "doesn't mind staying in jail as long as he feels that it is neces-

Labor Will Get Chance At Posts

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to consider a recommendation of the Marin County Labor Council that organized labor be represented on county commissions.

The letter was in protest of the "mass firing" of planning commissioners by the board, particularly the removal of George Scott, who had been labor's representative.

Chairman Peter H. Behr said the supervisors are aware there are men in the "labor community" competent to serve. The next step, he said, is for the board to ask the labor council to submit candidates for appointments.

Corte Madera Would Help Pay For Tidelands Area

The Corte Madera Town Council last night voted to put up as much as $6,000 toward purchase of 24 acres of tidelands in Corte Madera Bay.

The council acted quickly on the request by the Marin Conservation League, after hearing a letter that the land was available for a total of $12,000. The league owns 87 acres nearby, but town fathers asked that the new purchase be held in the name of the town.

"A lot of landowners will be acting to beat expected state control or moratorium," predicted Mayor Edward W. Colthurst. "This may be the appropriate time to aid the league."

The league has been picking strategic lots to purchase to discourage filling, Colthurst said.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said there is a space beyond the town boundary in the bay which is privately owned and could be filled. He said he would propose annexation of the land as soon as a legal description can be drawn up.

Senate Confirms

$7,750,000 Bond Election Set On Hall Of Justice

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today set a $7,750,000 bond issue election for June 8. The issue would be to finance construction of a civic center wing which would include court rooms and the county jail.

The proposed addition, to be known as the Hall of Justice, would replace the present courthouse in downtown San Rafael.

Supervisors also approved transfer of $25,000 from unappropriated reserve to cover the cost of the election. The board agreed to discuss the election further next week to decide how the campaign for passage shall be organized.

Three Buildings In Marin Involved In Bank Collapse

At least three Marin apartment building projects may be stymied by the collapse of San Francisco National Bank, it was learned today.

The projects are under construction for Patterson Properties, a development firm headed by Bradford H. McNutt of Sausalito. They are an apartment building in the Bon Air section of Greenbrae, about one-third completed; another partially completed at Marion Court and Bellam Boulevard in the San Rafael canal area, and the Ardilla Apartments in Sausalito, of which 90 units have been completed and more have been requested.

On Jan. 21, the day before the bank shut down, McNutt called about 30 creditors of Patterson Properties into a meeting and told them he hoped to arrange a further $150,000 loan to pay off some of the company's second mortgages.

A director of San Francisco National Bank was present and confirmed possibility of the loan, McNutt said.

McNutt declined to confirm a report that William S. Bennett had served as middleman in transfer of $520,000 in McNutt's mortgages to the bank. Another $90,000 in second mortgages reportedly were turned over after the bank shut down.

Clear Tomorrow, Forecaster Says

The fog closed down the Marin County Airport north of Novato but not the field at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The Weather Bureau predicted that tomorrow will be much like today with fog in the morning and clear skies later.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Snowball Fight, And Then Death

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A truck driver, pelted when he drove his truck through a crossfire in a college snowball fight, whipped out a pistol and killed a University of Tennessee freshman late yesterday, police said.

Willett

The action so angered collegians they knocked him to the ground, stamped and beat him, the driver told police.

Police charged William Douglas Willett Jr., 27, of Greenville, Tenn., with murder in the death of Marnell Goodman, 18, of Swampscott, Mass. Goodman was the nephew of Fred Blumberg, professor of English at the university.

Homicide Capt. Fred Scruggs said Willett had a bruised left eye and nose and a "busted mouth" as a result of the drubbing.

Student Dana Fred Wolf Jr. said he was about 30 feet from the truck and saw the shooting.

"He had a gun in his hand and swung it around passing a group of students and aimed it at Marty Goodman."

Indonesia Working On A-Bomb

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — An Indonesian army general said today 200 scientists are working on a project to develop Indonesia's first atomic bomb.

In a statement distributed by the official government news agency Antara, Brig. Gen. Hartono said the bomb will be ready for testing by armed forces day in October.

The announcement followed by less than a week a visit to Communist China by a high-level Indonesian delegation headed by Foreign Minister Subandrio. A communique issued after Subandrio's talks with Premier Chou En-lai pledged increased military and economic ties between the two Asian nations.

The communique made no mention of nuclear projects.

Blast Kills 13 Coal Miners

LENS, France (AP)—At least 13 coal miners were killed early today when an explosion rocked a northern France coal mine 2,200 feet underground. Eight miners were missing and there was little hope they would be found alive, mine officials said.

The disaster probably would have had far greater proportions except that it was a regular off-time period for the some 200 miners who usually work. A small crew was on duty preparing for the regular shift to go down.

Quick Appalachia Action Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed the Appalachia aid bill, and prompt House action is scheduled on the $1.09-billion measure drawn up as an economic pep bill for depressed regions of an 11-state area.

House Speaker John W. McCormack said it was likely the measure would be the first major piece of legislation from the 89th Congress to reach President Johnson's desk. Johnson has been pressing for quick action.

No 'Flu' Epidemic

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation apparently has escaped any serious outbreak of Asian flu for this winter despite the epidemic of "executive flu" currently making the rounds of official Washington. The U.S. Public Health Service's communicable disease center reported today that, so far, the incidence of genuine Asian flu—the worst kind—has been even less than last year's light outbreak.

Viet Front Quiet, Saigon Celebrates The New Year

SAIGON (UPI)—Thousands of Vietnamese children romped through the streets of Saigon today, setting off firecrackers in celebration of the lunar new year. The festive mood pushed the anti-Communist war into the background.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that all was quiet on the guerrilla battlefronts in the paddies, jungles and rubber plantations where U.S.-supported troops stood guard against any Communist attempts to break an unofficial cease-fire.

Informed military sources expressed doubt that Vietnamese field commanders would order their troops into major battles unless first attacked by the Viet Cong.

The "truce" was to last through the end of the week while Viet Nam marks the advent of the year of the snake.

Fireworks are illegal in Saigon, but police turned their backs on the city's celebrating young people today. The noise of exploding firecrackers was a reminder to some, however, that many Viet Cong guerrillas are entrenched in the very outskirts of the city.

Dock Strikers Reject LBJ's Work Request

NEW YORK (AP) — Top officials of the striking longshoremen's union have declined to comply immediately with President Johnson's request that the men return to work in the ports from Maine to Texas where contract settlements have been reached.

Johnson, who relayed his request through Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, also urged early settlements in the other ports.

MAJOR FACTOR

The situation in Philadelphia, where negotiations resume today after an overnight recess, has been named as a major factor in charting the union's course.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds conferred here yesterday with leaders of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association.

Reynolds, with ILA President Thomas W. Gleason at his side, later told newsmen that union officials would make no decision on the White House request until it was certain that ILA locals in Baltimore and Philadelphia had accepted contract terms.

BALTIMORE VOTE

A short time later, word came that ILA members in Baltimore had approved a four-year contract by a vote of 1,879 to 468. The contract is a revision of the one defeated last Wednesday 1,371 to 1,016. Baltimore has 4,500 dock workers.

For many years the ILA has not allowed its men to work in any port until locals in all ports reached agreements. Locals in a number of South Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports still have not reached settlements. Pacific Coast longshoremen belong to a different union.

The U.S. Maritime Administration has estimated that the 23-day-old strike of 60,000 ILA members has cost the national economy well over $1 billion. It says the strike has idled 617 ships, including 142 American-flag ships.

Pike Asks Decision On Social Struggles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike says his church's members must decide whether they want the church to be involved in current social struggles or merely "a haven for the respectable."

Addressing a dinner audience at the opening session of the 15th Diocesan Convention at San Francisco's Grace Cathedral last night, Bishop Pike noted that the Episcopal Church's stand on social problems—such as civil rights — has hurt it materially.

Current moral pressures have caused a division within the church's membership, he said. This is also true with other denominations, he said.

The result, he said, is that the church's annual budget for the coming year has suffered "several serious cuts to the bone" for the first time since he has been bishop.

Some churchgoers withdrew their financial support and attendance because the churh involves itself in civil rights and such problems as the recent Proposition 14 campaign in California. The referendum, approved at the Nov. 3 general election, wiped out state laws banning discrimination in housing.

Parishoners who have withdrawn financial support apparently want their church to be a "chaplancy for the club members . . . throwing holy water on the status quo," instead of participating in community problems, Bishop Pike said.

Wilson Tells Why A-Force Being Kept

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson says world nuclear war is inevitable if the Western allies don't protect non-nuclear nations against the threat of Red Chinas A-bomb.

Answering questions last night about his first 100 days in office, Wilson explained why he had decided to keep bombers east of the Suez Canal when his election platform pledged Britain would abandon independent nuclear power.

"This country's strength is going to depend on our world role and not being coralled in Europe," he said.

"We now have the situation of the Chinese nuclear weapon. We have non-nuclear countries, including India, who want some safeguards against that, otherwise we are going to find India, Pakistan and all countries in Asia, and perhaps Indonesia becoming nuclear powers.

"Once this happens, world nuclear war is inevitable."

Bitter Cold Drives Into Deep South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter cold drove into the Deep South today and much of the country shivered through a night of subzero temperatures, rain, snow and strong winds.

Arctic air over the North Central states pushed south through the lower Mississippi Valley and southern Texas and east over the Tennessee and Ohio valleys.

Cold-wave warnings were issued for Arkansas, northern Mississippi and sections of Tennessee and Kentucky.

NEAR ZERO

Temperatures edged near zero in parts of Kentucky and Tennessee, with 4 above at Louisville, 6 above at Nashville and 3 above at Crossville, Tenn.

Schools were closed in 29 Kentucky counties because of snow and cold.

Rain fell over the central Gulf Coast states and a belt of snow whitened an area from Tennessee to the Carolina mountains north to southern New England and the eastern Great Lakes.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

Five inches of snow fell in Knoxville, Tenn., and 4 inches were measured in Crossville and Bristol.

Four-inch snowfalls also were reported in London, Ky.; Beckley, W.Va.; Binghamton, N.Y.; and Muskegon, Mich.

Several school systems were closed today in North Carolina mountain areas because of snow.

Academy Aide Says End Near For Probe

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — An Air Force Academy official said the diminishing number of cadet resignations — nine yesterday — "strongly indicates that the end is near" in the academy's investigation of the theft and sale of examinations.

The official, anonymous in the face of a strict academy order forbidding personnel to discuss the affair, said the probe may be finished by the weekend. He made the remarks in an interview with the Rocky Mountain News.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., labeled Air Force answers to his inquiries concerning the cheating, "a snow job," and said he was waiting for replies to 10 written questions he submitted yesterday to secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert.

Stratton, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, has charged that "athletic professionalism" was a factor in the cheating scandal, and has questioned the scholastic qualifications of academy athletes.

An Air Force athletic officer said yesterday that of 100 varsity, junior varsity, and freshman cadets on academy football teams last fall, 81 were in the top quarter of their high school class.

Witness Says Accused Mate Slayer Loved Another Man

SAN BERNARDINO (AP)—A prosecution witness says Mrs. Lucille Miller told him she no longer loved her husband—whom she is accused of murdering—but did love attorney Arthwell Hayton.

Mrs. Miller, 35, pregnant mother of three, is charged with killing her husband Gordon, 39-year-old dentist who died in his burning car Oct. 8.

Erwin Sprengel, Riverside contractor who built the Miller home last June, testified yesterday at Mrs. Miller's murder trial that he had several conversations with the defendant last summer and fall.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Don Turner asked Sprengel if Mrs. Miller told him she loved Hayton

"Yes, she did," said Sprengel. "She said she'd lost any affection whatsoever for her husband and did, in fact, love Mr. Hayton. If circumstances were such, she said, she would like to marry Mr. Hayton."

Sprengel also testified that Mrs. Miller told him she once advised Mrs. Hayton to divorce her husband. Mrs. Hayton died last April.

Sprengel said he taped one of their conversations over the telephone last August. Defense attorney Edward Foley objected to introduction of the tape as evidence, but said he would withdraw his objection if the judge first listened to the tape.

San Rafael Library Budget Is Discussed

San Rafael Library trustees opened discussions last night on the next fiscal year's budget, according to Librarian Vivian Smith.

The trustees felt the summertime bookmobile program should be continued, and also favored keeping the young people's room — for junior high school age readers — open during evening hours next fall. The longer hours will require extra help, Mrs. Smith said.

ALTO BOWL ANNEXATION—The City of Mill Valley yesterday filed application to annex Alto Bowl No. 1, the slant-lined area above. The same area is part of the territory sought to be incorporated into the proposed city of Alto. Highway 101 is at bottom on the map drawn by Bala and Strandgaard, engineers.

School Bond Vote Appeal Refused

Representatives of Reed and Kentfield school district boards last night showed up at a session of Tamalpais High School District trustees to urge that a high school bond issue be placed on the April 20 ballot.

Representatives from the County Committee for School District Organization and the Mill Valley area appeared to ask that the issue be kept off the ballot until the question of district unification is settled.

The board late last year informally decided to call the bond election this April for funds for new high schools in the Tiburon Peninsula and San Geronimo Valley and third stage construction at Redwood High School. But because of confusion over unification, district Supt. Chester G. Carlisle has asked the board not to call the election. The final date for board action would be Feb. 20.

Mrs. Alice Farkas, president of the Reed school board, asked the Tam trustees to act because the new high schools are badly needed.

Mrs. Ellen Binckley of Mill Valley, a member of the county committee, said the bond issue would be sure to lose because confusion about how the funds would be spent after unification.

Trustee John C. Siemens cited the last bond issue, for three million dollars, and said such a measure will pass only if the way the money is to be spent is spelled out very carefully and specifically. "We couldn't pass it with unification clouding the issue," he said.

The Tamalpais High School District board also:

1. Heard a report from Tamalpais High School Principal Robert H. Prather that residents of the Homestead area are pleased with results of partially closing the campus to keep students from annoying residents.

2. Set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 10 to consider the contract for outdoor physical education facilities at Tamalpais High School.

3. Adopted a resolution continuing the counselling program for gifted students with federal aid.

4. Accepted the resignation of Tamalpais High history teacher Joseph McConnell, effective immediately, for personal reasons, and the resignation of Tamalpais history teacher Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell as of June.

5. Hiredas a substitute teacher Mrs. Suzanne Mangan.

COUNCILMEN SHARE CUPS OF COFFEE

The juice of the coffee bean was poured for the first time last night by city councilmen and citizens under a trial program in Mill Valley.

Councilman Albert E. White, who headed the committee to provide coffee at the 10 p.m. intermission, asked for participation from residents.

Coffee, said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, is paid for from the city clerk's fund. Mayor Michael Wornum provided the urn last night and firemen did the brewing. The break lasted 10 minutes and there were no complaints.

Tiburon Waterfront Plan To Get Study

A citizens planning advisory committee being formed in Tiburon got a tough assignment last night. Plans for a waterfront development to include a marina, hotel, restaurant, town houses, shops, office building and parking lots were turned over to it for study.

The Tiburon Planning Commission heard Louis O. Britt of Britt and Associates, a Tiburon designing firm, explain plans for the development on five acres of dry land and over 13 underwater acres adjacent to downtown Tiburon.

The lecture-music room of Del Mar School was filled to capacity as the commission heard comments and discussed the plans for an hour. The land is under option from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad by Tiburon Tidelands, Inc.

Eight persons spoke before the commission, the most impassioned being Anthony M. Guzzardo, 2028 Paradise Drive, who opposed the plans as not being specific enough. Developer Robert Moor was asking commission approval only for uses for the land, not for specific plans.

The commission turned the request over to the citizens subcommittee which will study the waterfront. Committees are expected to hold their first meetings at the end of the month, following appointment of subcommittee chairmen.

Belvedere Would Talk 'Money' With NWP

Belvedere city councilmen listened warily to a plea last night that they back the Northwestern Pacific Railroad in its request to abandon Tiburon Peninsula operations.

They carefully made no commitment but talked of polite "blackmail" to a railroad representative to see if the city might gain possession of a ponding area which would tie in with future flood control plans, and to see if the city, with Tiburon, might acquire some of the Tiburon railroad yards for corporation yards, or might gain railroad right-of-way for future realignment of Tiburon Boulevard. Councilmen also want figures on how the railroad sale or lease of the yards would affect the tax base.

The Belvedere City Council Also:

1. Passed an emergency ordinance setting criteria for use permits so that the use requested must not endanger public health, safety or convenience. The council then referred back to the planning commission the request by Fred G. Zelinsky for construction of a service station at Tiburon Boulevard and Mar West Street.

2. Heard a letter from Harry C. Duncan, 270 Madrona Avenue, commending Belvedere police for efficiency in checking his home while he was away for some weeks.

3. Informally approved encroachment on city streets of a storm drain to be installed by Zelinsky, if water flowing through it does not silt Belvedere Cove.

4. Upheld the planning commission in denial of four setback variances requested by David Sheldon for a home at 2 Bellevue Avenue.

5. Passed an ordinance allowing construction of fireplaces which are not supported from the ground up.

6. Approved a 10-year garbage pickup contract with Mill Valley Refuse Service, with option for a 15-year further extension.

D.C. Home Rule Is Proposed By President

He proposed legislation to create the office of mayor and a 15-member City Council, with a nonvoting delegate in the House of Representatives.

Similar pleas for home rule by former Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy have gone unheeded by the House. The Senate has approved home rule legislation four times.

Most of the opposition in the House has come from Southerners. Negroes outnumber whites in the District by a substantial margin.

Council Rescinds Ban On Blithedale Parking

The vote, following a 90-minute discussion, was 3 to 2, councilmen William M. Secor and Albert E. White opposing the change. An audience of about 30 applauded the decision.

The council imposed the ban about a month ago but citizens petitioned the council to re-open the matter.

Spokesman A. W. Gumperz urged the rescinding, suggesting a 29-foot roadway and reduction of sidewalks to four feet instead.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said widening the street would be prohibitive in cost. Police Chief Dan Terzich backed this stand.

Balmer said today that curbs will be painted red where the street is less than 32 feet wide and, starting today, tickets will be issued to persons parking on sidewalks.

Mayor Michael Wornum assured citizens that the 25-mile speed limit will be enforced. The council asked City Engineer Stanley M. Bala to submit an estimate on cost to get the street aligned. Sidewalks will be discussed Feb. 15.

The council decided to discuss Feb. 15 the question of asking the county board of supervisors to delay rezoning of the proposed City of Marincello.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks, whose firm represents Marincello, said he would abstain on the vote but not on discussion. He said he felt the city's vote last week at the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen "entirely out of order." (The city was one to ask for a 30-day delay.)

"I feel," said Sheeks, "if the mayor wanted to bring it before the city council, it should have been done so a month or so ago, so representatives of Marincello could come in and speak."

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Adopted the preliminary Old Mill Park master plan presented by landscape architect Eldon Beck. The plan, if realized, would be done in stages. Cost is $65,000 for execution.

2. Approved a schedule submitted by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for underground utilities in the Locust area and asked Balmer to attempt to obtain voluntary cooperation of property owners.

3. Directed Councilman George E. Wickham to look into what the council can do to work with Police Chief Terzich in making suggestions to the California League of Cities on how to handle delinquent youngsters.

4. Appointed to the parks and recreation commission Mrs. Jean Barnard, to fill unexpired term of Mrs. William B. Allen, and Jim Rutledge, to fill the expired term of Thomas Lathrop, and put over to Feb. 15 appointments to the youth committee.

5. Continued to Feb. 15 talk on controls of use of the community center and small craft harbor.

6. Heard Wickham go on record saying he does not think the county should be asked to curtail its urban services but rather a way should be figured out to more equitably distribute the cost of services of cities and the county.

7. Approved 4-1, Councilman Secor voting "No," a variance to permit one offstreet parking place where two are required for Edward Goliti Jr. on Redwood Lane.

Marin Firm Requests Alto Annex

Marin Capital Co. requested the annexation of Alto Bowl to the city of Mill Valley.

This was disclosed last night by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer at the Mill Valley City Council meeting. He said Marin Capital Co. owns 99 of the 134 acres in the proposed annexation.

The city applied yesterday for approval of the annexation by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

The commission on Jan. 4 approved annexation of an identical acreage which includes Tamalpais High School. Attorney S. J. Hugh Allen fought that annexation vigorously. He is a land owner in the Alto proposal, having 33 acres.

The new annexation proposal, known as "Alto Bowl No. 1," lies within the proposed city of Alto.

Balmer said the commission will probably discuss the Alto annexation in about two weeks.

Pledges Hit $1,700 For Tidelands

The City of Tiburon has collected about $1,700 in pledges and cash to help it pay its share in purchasing tidelands off Strawberry.

The Belvedere City Council last night was on the verge of considering donation of some of its city funds to Tiburon for the project, but was advised it probably would be illegal.

Belvedere councilmen individually took down the address for donations (City of Tiburon Tidelands Fund, Box 424) and noted that donations are tax deductible.

Another jurisdiction in the purchase of 11.1 tidal acres, the Strawberry Recreation Commission, has thus far received only $5 in donations. Commission secretary Patrician Gowen said more donations are expected as soon as a federal grant for one-third of the purchase price gets preliminary approval.

The land, controlled by Harbor Cove, Inc., was planned for dredge-fill development. The city, recreation district and County of Marin have agreed to split the cost of more than $56,000. The total is expected to be reduced by the federal "open land" grant.

Churchill Rites Planned 5 Years

LONDON (UPI) — The faultless pageantry of the state funeral for Sir Winston Churchill was the result of five years of planning carried on under the code name "Operation Hope Not." The great statesman was not aware of it.

An authoritative source said today that contrary to a widely held belief Sir Winston played no part in planning his own obsequies nor did he keep a "funeral book" of the kind of farewell he would have liked from his nation.

This conviction on the part of the press apparently arose, the source said, because Sir Winston had a matter-of-fact approach to death and did not mind discussing it. "I love life," he said, "but I do not fear death."

Oregon Flood Threat Ends

PORTLAND (UPI) — The flood crisis that threatened the diary-rich Tillamook country on the Oregon coast was over today and the next big job was to remove the slide that caused it.

Gov. Mark Hatfield said yesterday the Tillamook area was out of danger from waters that had backed up behind the Wilson River slide. Cleanup of the slide will begin soon, he said.

An overflow and a channel cut by the river permitted a runoff so the "lake" behind the the nautre-made dam could recede.

Warnings On Floods To Improve

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Weather Bureau said yesterday it plans to improve its flood warning system in Northern California.

The announcement was made in response to a letter from Rep. Don H. Clausen, who complained about what he called a breakdown in the flood warning system during the unprecedented storms of Christmas week.

The bureau said it planned to rehabilitate 17 telemetered river gauges, add eight precipitation telemetering stations and install emergency power at radio stations. It said the disastrous storms of December imparied facilities for obtaining data that forecasters need for accuracy.

When they had adequate data, forecasts were quickly made available through the computer-equipped river forecast center.

The bureau said it would operate in cooperation with the Geological Survey and the California Department of Water Resources.

Windows Broken

Someone hurled a fire extinguisher and a rock through two windows, worth $50 at a new home at 51 Elda Drive, San Rafael, owner Ed S. Penson of Petaluma told San Rafael police yesterday.

Tape Player Stolen

Theft of a $160 auto stereo tape player from a car parked at his home was reported by Leroy Ford of 83 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, yesterday. Ford told police the device was taken Saturday or Sunday.

Cardinal Scarlet Silk Abolished

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has written an official directive abolishing the most lavish of cardinals' garments—their scarlet silks and 9 - foot cloaks—sources here said today.

The sources said the Pontiff would publish within a few days a "motu proprio," or personal document, on the subject in preparation for the start of solemn consistories Feb. 22 for the making of 27 new cardinals.

The pope was said to have decided on the abolition "as a sign of humility and poverty on the part of the cardinals."

A cardinal's clothing consists at its simplest of a black street suit. The only indication of the high office then is an emerald ring on the right hand, the pectoral cross on its chain underneath the suit jacket, and a tiny tab of scarlet sewed just below the square cutout at the thorat of the Roman collar.

Cardinal's ceremonial garments, however, are in rich watered silks. For the most solemn occasions each has a "cappa magna" or great cape of that fabric.

Economic Lag Is Indicated In Harvesting The Oceans

Worldwide Press Service

UNITED NATIONS — Barely 1 per cent of man's food is extracted from the 90 million square miles of food-producing oceans, though they cover 70 per cent of the world's surface.

Since the seas are as productive as arable land — acre for acre — a great economic lag is indicated, also an opportunity for economic development since at least one-third of the world's three billion people is presently malnourished.

Thus five new projects in the development of fisheries have just been approved here by the governing council of the UN's pre-investment service, the special fund. This brings to 21 the total in this field, with scheduled outlays now listed at more than $51 million.

These various projects sum up the problems in erasing the paradox of severe under-use of our seas.

Take the case of Peru, for example. This country has increased its fish catch 150 times over its 1948 level, and has now overtaken Japan. Between them in the past few years, Japan and Peru have landed almost a third of the world's fish catch, according to the new Yearbook of Fishery Statistics, of the UN's Food and Agriculture Organization (FOA). Yet the similarity between Japan and Peru as top fishing nations ends there.

Peru's upsurge was based on the anchoveta, of which her catch is almost seven million tons a year. This earns Peru something over $100 million in foreign exchange, largely because she processes the anchoveta into fish meal for export as feed for livestock and poultry. The rugged interior of Peru is not yet open to the kind of quick and efficient transportation on which use of fresh fish for people demands.

Japan, on the other hand, is able to sustain a high fish intake for her population and to sell abroad products of the sea in their directly edible form. Her fishermen, with their highly mechanized craft and developed methods, roam the Pacific and even beyond for their "crops."

Peru needed help in creating a sea institute precisely because of the extreme dependence of her fishing industry on the anchoveta. As a recent decline in the catch dramatized, the industry is vulnerable to lack of knowledge of its biological basis. Institute research vessels have already established that trade wind shifts affect the upwelling of nutrient-rich waters and, consequently, the concentration of marine organisms.

Chile and Educador, Peru's neighbors on the Pacific coast, also have special fund-supported institutes. They take inventory of sea resources, plot fish habits, investigate adaptations of vessel and gear to local fishing needs, do laboratory work on fishmeal and oil. They also cooperate with the Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission in checking out the "El Nino Phenomenon."

This periodic warming of coastal water is thought to have considerable effect on the distribution of fish in the Pacific. Indeed, knowledge of where fish go on their vast migrations is still key to the fishing industry.

On the catching side, primitive methods and equipment have limited many coastal countries to offshore fishing. Since this take is inadequate to their needs, they now import the rest.

For example, Nigeria imports half the 100,000 tons of fish used there. Ghana, also on the Atlantic, is another fish importer. And the Philippines, a multi-island country with extensive off-shore resources, imports fish to augment its catch.

All of these countries have, or will shortly get, aid from the special fund and FOA in training personnel for deep-sea fishing and in making the other studies needed to document the soundness of investments in fishery evelopment. Experimental vessels are part of some of the projects.

Ghana created a public fishing corporation to manage its leap from canoe fishing to motorized fishing to deep-sea fishing.

Vessels were acquired from Great Britain, Norway, the USSR. Storage facilities were built in 10 cities, and a score of retail shops were set up. A start was also made in selling fish in outlying towns, from insulated trucks.

When the increase in the catch failed to reach the target set, the corporation moved to spur private fishing enterprise by underwriting the installment buying of outboard motors by traditional fishermen from Aflca, on the eastern border, to Half Assini, on the west. Now they land 50 per cent as much as the deep-sea vessels of the corporation.

A fishery research institute, to make studies Ghana needs to enable its deep-sea program to increase rapidly, is one of the projects that has just cleared the Special Fund Governing Council session here. FOA will be the executing agent.

FOA experts, while endorsing all these enterprises to increase the catch, also encourage shortcuts to use of fish after it is landed. For the harsh fact is that a high percentage of the fish caught, spoils or is eaten by beetles, rats, etc., because of the lack of storage and transportation facilties, particularly in tropical countries. This is true even if the fish is smoked or dried.

To defeat the beetle and other marauders, the experts urge the making of a fish protein in the form of a fish flour.

This is not to be confused with the fish meal made from Peu's huge anchoverta catch which, as noted, is exported for livestock and poultry feed. In fact, FAO is helping Peru to upgrade its fish meal to fish flour for human use. This is a two-edged program. Technological advice is being given on production of the flour itself. And a government-industry campaign to create consumer acceptance is being aided by FAO nutritionists.

FAO specialists concede that it takes diligence and imagination to win consumer acceptance, but they cite success in pilot projects in Asia, Latin America and Africa.

In Morocco it took the combined efforts of the government, the World Health Organization, FAO and the UN Children's Fund to break down a natural reluctance to accept the new, particularly when it is something to eat that is tasteless, odorless and can't be bitten into. Not until the mothers of the test area saw their children blossom in response to use of the flour in soups, breads and other ways, was the battle won. A fish flour factory is now underway at Agadir.

Fish protein concentrate (flour) is being produced today in Canada, Denmark, Iceland, Norway, South Africa, Sweden and the U.S. wherever there is a surplus of fish over what is consumed fresh. That is the point FAO hopes to make with the project in Peru.

ron W. Leydecker told senior planner Walter Horchler after an hour-long briefing of the board and commission at last night's meeting in the Civic Center.

"I am stunned that in six months a man could do what he has done," said Mrs. Elizabeth B. Davies, commission member. "Only because of his vast experience was he successful."

Supervisor chairman Peter H. Behr called Horchler's briefing excellent.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss was especially pleased that the plan gives top priority to development of recreation potential at Stafford Lake northwest of Novato, in his district.

A committee of Novato citizens appointed by the board to instigate interest in the Stafford Lake development said it wanted an outline of financing so it could go ahead with fund-raising.

For an hour and three-quarters, the meeting proceeded without comment from the parks and recreation commission, which chairman Lawson found "extremely disappointing."

"The plan is not perfect and has many problems to be worked out," said Lawson, adding that he hoped last night's meeting would center on some of these problems.

Lawson said the Horchler plan was "terrifically imaginative," and the "work is too well done to have holes shot in it" without constructive criticism in return.

"But we cannot say this work reflects our opinion," he said. "The commission is still on the outside looking in." He said the commission wants to hash out problems of communication and chain of command with the supervisors.

Horchler touched two points of conflict between his plan and the West Marin Master Plan. He said the main one concerned location of fresh-water recreation facilities in northwest Marin.

Mrs. Summers letter to the planning commission yesterday criticized the plan because it conflicts with other master plans, "mainly the West Marin Master Plan," which she authored with Dan Coleman and Associates.

Lawson noted that the West Marin Master Plan has yet to be adopted by the board.

Horchler said the West Marin plan calls for damming of Walker Creek in the hills east of Tomales Bay for creation of a reservoir which would also serve as a recreation area.

He said this reservoir would be virtually inaccessible for recreation. His plan calls for a four-mile reservoir east of Walker Creek in the Chileno Valley, partly in Sonoma County. This, he said, would have gradual slopes ideal for lakeside recreation areas.

The other point of conflict Horchler saw between his plan and the West Marin plan was over Tomales Bay tidelands, which he said would lose their "conservation value" under the lagoon development with islands provided in the West Marin Master Plan.

Horchler advocates the tidelands be preserved in their present state as a wildlife refuge.

The parks and recreation commission's newest member, Lothar Salin, said Horchler's plan has too much detail to be acceptable. "The third and fourth stages are all tied into the first one" in the plan's implementation section, he said.

Leydecker emphasized repeatedly that support of the plan must be sought from Marin's 11 cities. It is "imperative, crucial and critical," he said, to consider the desires and needs of the cities through their elected officials.

Avery Tindell of 728 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, asked about the threat to egrets on West Marin Island from development of east San Rafael tidelands.

Leydecker replied that since his talks with San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis he was confident the city's general plan providing controls for tidelands development would be modified.

The London Museum and State Apartments at Kensington Palace contain a collection of royal robes and dolls' houses, including Queen Victoria's doll.

COLLEGE BOARD MEETS THURSDAY

The Marin Junior College District board will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in Harlan Hall at College of Marin.

Penalty Assessment Explained

Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of Marin Municipal Courts, said today many people still do not understand the long-used, required penalty assessment added to all fines and bails in traffic and misdemeanor cases.

He offered the following information:

A charge of $2 for each $20 in bail or fine is required by state law as penalty assessment. All assessments in traffic violations go for driver training programs through public schools. All other assessments go to a statewide peace officer training program.

Judge Wilson said the traffic legislation was passed in 1954, but the penalty was raised from $1 to $2 per $20 in 1961.

The penal code assessment was 5 per cent of the amount of fine or bail imposed, but in 1962 was changed to the $2 assessment.

lost her at Throckmorton and Bernard Street.

The search that led to the alley followed.

Walsh said Miss Benton had left her 1953 car parked on Throckmorton across from the bank, with the motor running. In the car were six more American Express money orders, he said—and all had been altered.

Walsh said Miss Benton used the name of Mrs. Sharon Roberts on checks cashed earlier yesterday in Sausalito and Mill Valley, and had in her possession a driver's learner permit bearing the name of Sharon Roberts.

She told Walsh she had been in Corona State Prison on a narcotics charge and was paroled.

Miss Benton was charged with nine felony counts of forgery and possession of forged documents. She was released later from Marin County Jail on $1,100 bail.

She admitted to police having cashed money orders in Sausalito and at Crocker-Citizens Bank in Mill Valley and attempting to cash one at the Bank of America, Walsh said.

Fatal Heart Failure Research Is Gaining

By WIL LEPKOWSKI
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—New research into the mechanics of the heartbeat is putting scientists closer to preventing fatal heart failure.

In one highly significant development, a California woman scientist, Dr. Mary E. Carsten, has coaxed some tiny "pumps" out of the heart cells of animals. The "pumps" control the flow of calcium that, in turn, regulates heart muscle action.

This test tube advance gives researchers a direct technique for solving the other complicated muscle processes that power each heartbeat.

A second finding by researchers of the National Heart Institute here seems to pinpoint just where the important heart drug — digitalis — does its work. It turns out that it is in Dr. Carsten's "pumps."

Dr. Edward Sonnenblink of the heart institute group says the double discovery marks the first time "we really have our hands on the heart's controlling mechanism."

He said this basic biology work was comparable to the basic research in physics that led to the atomic bomb.

Translating the research into heart therapy is still years away. But the digitalis connection to the intricate pumping process is crucial because of the drug's power as a therapeutic tool.

Most heart attack survivors owe their lives to the drug that pharmaceutical makers extract out of the leaves of the foxglove weed. After 20 years it is still the prime heart drug.

The chemical key to the heartbeat mechanism is metallic calcium in its positively charged form. Dr. Carsten of the University of California at Los Angeles showed in the test tube that when the "pumps" eject calcium, heart muscles contract. When it absorbs the metal, the muscles relax.

Muscle relaxation and contraction is highly complicated in itself, but as scientists have known for almost a century it needs calcium to work.

The process involves the action of two types of thin parallel fibers, actin and myosin, that tug at each other to the rhythmic triggering action of other chemicals, which themselves are stimulated by electrical nerve charges.

Wrapped like binding around the actin-myosin bundles are the pumping particles Dr. Carsten isolated — technically called sarcotubes. There's no beat until calcium is released by the sarcotubular material. When it sucks up calcium the heart relaxes. Then everything is set for another cycle.

Farm Bureau Directors Back School Site Bill

Directors of the Marin County Farm Bureau voted yesterday to endorse William H. Kirk's proposed bill calling for subdividers to provide school sites at cost.

Kirk is president of the old Novato Unified School District board.

The Farm Bureau board also endorsed a resolution passed by the Mendocino County Farm Bureau asking for a 25 per cent reduction in the assessment of cattle for 1966 fiscal year because the price of cattle has dropped 25 per cent within the past year.

It was announced that Warren Schoonover of University of California Extension Service will talk on "Can Egypt Feed Herself?" at the annual meeting of the Marin County Farm Bureau at 10 a.m. Feb. 22 in the Lodge at Novato.

Building Site Theft

An engineer's transit and a 50-foot extension cord were stolen from a locked tool shed at a construction site at 23 Aqua Vista Drive, San Rafael, between Friday and yesterday morning, Milan A. Gearety of 1010 B Street, San Rafael, told police.

Sleeping Bags Stolen

Margaret P. Nelson of 260 Canal Street, Apt. 114, told San Rafael police yesterday that two green sleeping bags and a three-cell flashlight, worth a total of $35 were stolen from her unlocked station wagon, parked in the apartment house carport, within the last week.

Sanitation Plans

Directors of the Tiburon sanitary District last night appointed director Angelo Mirata, plant superintendent J. B. McFarlane, and Bruce Collins of Kennedy Engineers as a committee to draw up a long-range capital improvement plan for the district.

Tools Taken

Athur R. Frazier of 190 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, complained to San Rafael police yesterday that someone stole $37.85 worth of tools from his 1959 Cadillac while it was left for repair at Rossi's Garage, 626 Fourth Street, last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Committee To Help Pick New Defender

Marin County supervisors today voted to have a committee recommend a candidate for the job of public defender, which will be vacant when Peter Allen Smith becomes a Municipal Court judge next Tuesday.

The decision came after Smith asked the board to consider appointing Assistant Public Defender Jerome Durham.

Chairman Peter H. Behr suggested a three-man committee consisting of Thomas F. Keating, presiding judge of Superior Court; Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of Municipal Court, and Howard Morehouse, president of the Marin County Bar Assn.

Vote for the committee appointment was 4-0. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer abstained, saying a legal associate of his might be considered for the job.

The board split without decision on whether to appoint Durham as acting public defender effective next Tuesday at a salary of $829 a month.

Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen approved the move, Behr opposed, and Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Storer abstained.

Three-Car Wreck Slows Commuters On Highway 101

It took most commuters from San Rafael more than an hour to get to work in San Francisco this morning after a three-car accident stalled traffic on the Alto Hill.

Eight persons were treated for cuts, bruises and abrasions at Marin and San Francisco hospitals. Commuter traffic was backed up for miles and slowed from the accident time at 6:25 a.m. until 9 a.m.

The California Highway Patrol reported that a car driven by Frank D. Borge, 65, Napa, pulled from behind a slow-moving truck in front of traffic in the next lane.

A car driven by Richard P. Fernandez, 34, of 77 Scenic Avenue, Fairfax, struck the Borge car. With Fernandez was his wife, Adamarie. With Borge was his wife, Myrtle, 73.

A car driven by Carl Mitschan, 38, of 15 Villa Maria Avenue, Novato, struck the other two cars. With Mitschan in the car were his wife, Herta, and Johann Kunz, and his wife, Olga, of 18 Villa Maria.

King was arrested yesterday with about 250 Negroes and half a dozen white civil rights workers on a march toward the courthouse. Most of those arrested with King were released in bonds of $200 each.

A member of King's staff said earlier that today's demonstrations also would serve to protest King's arrest.

The spokesman, the Rev. Hosea Williams of Atlanta, said simultaneous marches were being organized in the neighboring counties of Perry and Marengo and possibly also in Lowndes.

No Objections To Land Swap

No objection was raised last night to exchange of two pieces of property—each less than an acre—between the Mill Valley School District and Harbor Cove Corp., at a meeting of the school board at Strawberry Point School.

Trustees agreed to consider a resolution of intent Feb. 15 to exchange the parcels and expect to set a date for public hearing at that time, reported Leo B. Edson, assistant superintendent.

The board granted a deed to .38 of an acre on the west corner of the Tamalpais Valley school site to the County of Marin for a roadway.

The architectural firm of Corlett and Spackman of San Francisco was hired to provide consulting services and report within 60 days on classroom needs.

BANK

Senate will move at this point. I don't think that we could help much at this time."

In San Francisco the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation continued its payoffs of accounts up to the insured maximum of $10,000. The FIDC said the bank will remain open until all elgible depositors have claimed their money.

Rifle Firing Being Probed

A 17-year-old Sleepy Hollow youth was being investigated today for allegedly firing a rifle to frighten three small boys last Saturday.

Marin County sheriff's officers said the trio, two aged 10 and the other, 11, were walking along Luzanne Circle. They reportedly threw rocks into the roof of the 17-year-old's residence. He rushed out with the gun.

He told deputies he fired a single shot into the ground to scare the trio.

VIDEO ANTENNA SERVICE PASSED

Corte Madera Gives Tele-Vue Systems Franchise For 10 Years; Bond Posted

Tele-Vue Systems of Marin, Inc., last night posted $50,000 performance bond and won a franchise to supply community television antenna service to Corte Madera.

The town council approved the franchise for 10 years, although Tele-Vue president Linsey H. Spight had asked the term be lengthened to 15 years. He said he expected his company would be in the midst of placing cables underground in 10 years and franchise negotiations might be difficult then.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton said he felt the state or federal government would have taken over control of the operation by then anyway.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst ruled against a last-ditch appeal by a rival firm, Clear View Cable, Inc., to have the franchise question restudied. Colthurst offered to have the council consider Clear Views' application as a wholly new request and to decide whether two cable services should be allowed in the town.

The franchise requires that the antenna company provide free service to public gathering places. It would be void if controlling interest in the company ownership changed hands within three years.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Heard a report on having the town payroll done by data processsing facilities of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, but decided the present method is less expensive for the employees involved.

2. Agreed to allow the town assistant engineer and engineering aide to work overtime on Saturdays to complete engineering on several street projects, rather than hiring an outside firm.

3. Heard from Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow that the town insurance policy covering damage or fire to public buildings had been placed in a new package policy, saving several hundred dollars.

4. Accepted Tainter Path and streets of Mariner Highlands units 1 and 3 into the town street maintenance system.

5. Called for cost estimates on providing drainage and grading for a small town-owned parcel at end of El Camino Drive, proposed for a pre-schooler's playground. Brandow warned that eventually a street would run over the property.

6. Continued a hearing on flood control to Feb. 15, because neither county supervisor Thomas T. Storer nor Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen was able to attend last night.

7. Accepted a check for $1,000 from the Lion's Club as an installment payment on cost of construction of tennis courts in the town park, a gift by the lions to the town.

8. Approved a select street system plan for use of gasoline tax funds.

9. Endorsed the Tiburon Peninsula behavior code for juveniles.

10. Turned down a request by Ralph Pepe that he be allowed to hold four dances in the town every two months. The ordinance allows only three dances within any two-month period.

Council Albert E. Kogler and William W. Collier were absent.

TRAINEES ARRIVE—A group of California youths was among 52 that stopped over in Portland on way to Tongue Point Job Corps Training Center near Astoria, Ore. Big Strawberry Plan Unveiled

Plans for a 254-unit development in Strawberry area, known as Harbor Vista, were unveiled before the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

The proposed 26-acre development including single family houses, quadraplexes and a 24-unit condominium were outlined by Norman T. Gilroy, architect and land planner for Milan Development Co. of San Francisco.

Gilroy made his presentation while commissioners were conducting their first hearing on a master plan for the area on the ridge east of Highway 101, between Belvedere Drive and West Strawberry Drive. Second hearing will be Feb. 15.

Commissioners also voted for rezoning of Harbor Point Uuit One, along East Strawberry Drive, which was supported by 15 residents of the area.

The rezoning, initiated by the commission, changed the area from 7,500-square foot lots to 20,000 square foot lots, retaining its single-family home use.

Heifetz Walks Out —His Plans On Tap

Harry Heifetz walked out of his first meeting as a county planning commissioner yesterday, but only because his application for rezoning was under consideration.

Commissioners delayed decision on Heifetz's application for rezoning of a 71,000-square foot parcel in Santa Venetia after hearing protests from residents of the area and the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

Heifetz is seeking planned residential zoning for the parcel along the south side of North San Pedro Road, between the Gallinas Village Shopping Center and La Brea Way. It is now in residential estates zoning, which requires single-family dwellings on lots of at least 20,000 square feet. The proposed zoning would permit apartments.

The Gallinas Village CSD objected that the surrounding residential area is single-family, that the multiple-family would cause more crowding in schools, create sanitation problems and have an adverse effect on property values. The CSD also claimed the major portion of the site is not suitable for development because it consists of a steep cliff.

Planner Wes Wilkes reported the planning staff also recommended denial of the rezoning. This brought a round of applause from a small group of residents.

Wilkes said the parcel "perhaps is the worst piece of land in that part of the county" for development.

Walters said Heifetz feels that the site is not a good one for single family residences, but hopes to do something with the property.

Commissioner William F. Upton said he felt there should be some use of the property. He suggested that commissioners take a trip to the site during the lunch hour at their Feb. 15 meeting. Commissioners agreed to delay a decision one week.

Two letters from Santa Venetia residents were filed in protest, along with the Gallinas Village CSD letter.

Hearing Set On Lot-Split

Marin County Planning Commission yesterday reviewed proposed revisions to the county lot-split ordinance and set public hearing for Feb. 15.

County supervisors passed the ordinance as an emergency measure last October. Last week they called for a review of the ordinance, which has brought protests, mainly from West Marin land owners.

The ordinance sets requirements for divisions of land into two or three parcels.

One of the major revisions proposed is to have the planning staff determine what improvements may be required. The current ordinance specifies all the improvements, including curbs, gutters and drainage.

The ordinance was primarily designed to apply to urban areas. West Marin property owners charged that it was too stringent for rural areas.

Attorney Charles Pierce, representing West Marin land owners, asked that subdivisions and parcels of an acre or more be exempted from all improvements, retaining only right-of-way requirements.

"Don't rush carving up West Marin," Pierce said.

The Leagues of Women Voters of Marin asked that ordinance include a requirement that subdivisions be considered "in relation to master planning."

Teh Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Postponed until Feb. 15 action on Hoytt Enterprises application for a permit for a "townhouse community on 13.5 acres on the south side of Miller Creek Road, starting approximately 550 feet east of Las Gallinas Avenue, Marinwood.

2. Also delayed until Feb. 15 hearing on a resolution of intention to amend the county zoning ordinance to create large-lot controls, average density controls, and a commercial and/or tourist recreation district.

3. Denied a request of the City of Mill Valley to reconsider its previous grant of architectural supervision for Loyal B. Davis' 32-unit, two-story apartment at 548 Miller Avenue, just outside the city limits.

4. Approved plans for a 28-bed addition to Center Medical Convalescent Hospital, 1125B Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

5. Approved a lot split by Frank Stolte at 540 Montford Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

6. Approved planned residential zoning of John Campbell's property on Lower Road between Shoreline Highway and Upper Road in Bolinas. Commissioners Margaret Azevedo and Hugh Dougherty dissented, urging that the board of supervisors be asked to consider this in relation to the Bolinas Master Plan.

Expanded Marina Protested

Paradise Cay residents launched a protest before the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday against permitting an expanded marina in Paradise Cove.

The commission was considering an application by R. E. Miles to revise use permit granted to Pullman Building Co. for a private boat harbor north of Paradise Cay subdivision.

Miles asked that the number of berths be increased from 180 to 300 and dry storage for trailer boats be permitted.

Attorney Wayne White, representing Paradise Cay property owners, said the expansion would depreciate property values, creats traffic problems and contribute to pollution of the bay.

The commission also received a letter from the Paradise Property Owners Assn. objecting to the granting of the permit, and a letter from the City of Tiburon requesting delay in decision.

Miles also asked a delay and the commission continued the matter until Feb. 15.

Double-Deck Parking Time Increased To Make Money

Four San Rafael city councilmen agreed last night to put four-hour meters on half of the stalls in the city's two new upper parking decks in hopes of increasing their usage. The other half will retain two-hour limits.

They turned down a suggestion by City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen for five-hour meters.

Andersen said the two double-deck lots, at Third Street-Lootens Place and Fifth Avenue-C Street, have been less than half-full most of the time since the upper decks were completed in December.

He cited meager revenue brought in by the meters, particularly at the larger Third--Lootens lot during January.

Total intake at Third-Lootens. Andersen said, was $19.73. The Fifth-C lot did better, taking in $94.37, the bulk of which came after the free lot at the nearby city hall site was closed in the last week of the month.

Andersen said doctors and attorneys were asking for five-hour meters.

Councilman Louis H. Baar quickly objected. He said it was too soon after opening the lots to draw conclusions. Five-hour parking would benefit downtown employees rather than shoppers, he contended.

"This isn't the idea," Baar said.

When Andersen again complained that the lots were standing empty, Baar retorted that their function was to provide convenience, not to be kept full for maximum revenue.

"If we are in the parking business," he said, "let's build us a regular parking lot and start charging what parking lots do."

Mayor John F. McInnis was absent.

Pupil Exchange Program To Be Assessed

An assessment of the pupil exchange program between Sausalito and Mill Valley school districts will be attempted at a "town hall" meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the First Missionary Baptist Church, 501 Drake Avenue, Marin City.

The program, set up last September to help reduce "de facto segregation" in the Sausalito district, now has five Negro pupils from Marin City in Mill Valley schools and five Caucasians from Mill Valley attending Sausalito schools.

Dr. Wilson C. Riles, state consultant who originally proposed the exchange, will speak, as will Mrs. Mary Jane Johnson, a member of Berkeley's Citizens' Committee for Equal Opportunity in Education.

Greenbrae Owners To Hear Kettenhofen

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen will be guest speaker tonight at the annual meeting of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn., set for 8 o'clock at the Greenbrae School.

Hub Planners Name Chairman

Jerry W. Lloyd last night was elected 1965 chairman of the San Anselmo Planning Commission, succeeding Charles Leitzell. Warren Perry was named vice chairman.

A lot split proposed by Myrtle L. Caughlin at 20 Vine Avenue was continued because the applicant failed to appear, but several neighbors opposed to the change were allowed to speak.

The commission informally discussed plans for zoning the downtown area with Mozart Kaufman, head of a committee seeking a parking assessment district, but took no action.

Theft of $100 worth of acetylene torch equipment from a pickup truck was reported yesterday by Charles Varner of 1514 Second Street, San Rafael. He told police two gauges, 25 feet of double hose and a cutting torch were taken during the weekend.

Annual meeting of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. will be held at 8 p.m. next Monday at Lagunitas School.

Driver Fined $193

George Johnstone, 32, of 825 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, was fined $193 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested on Highway 101 near the Waldo tunnel by California Highway Patrol last Jan. 24.

Planning Commission Elects Vice Chairman

Felix M. Warburg of Ross was elected vice chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday to succeed George Scott of Mill Valley, who was removed from the commission by county supervisors after he refused to resign at their request.

Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon, who was absent when the vote was taken after 7 p.m., was elected secretary of the commission, succeeding Warburg.

Council Cool To Idea On Corporation Yard

The San Rafael City Council gave a cool reception to City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen's suggestion that the city buy 20 acres of partly submerged land in east San Rafael for a corporation yard site.

Instead, the council told Andersen to come up with several potential sites and present them at the March 1 meeting.

Councilman Louis H. Baar voiced objections on at least three grounds:

First, he noted, the 20 acres belong to Adolph A. Tiscornia of San Francisco, who he predicted would "fight to the last drop of blood" to get a high price for it.

Also, Baar said, the site would put the corporation yard in an exposed spot, with possible adverse effects on the neighborhood. And on top of that, he contended it would be bad policy for the city to start talking about filling along the canal when it recently forbade others to do so until details of the San Rafael General Plan are adopted.

To the last point, Andersen replied that the ban affected only filling beyond the levee. This site, he said, was inside the levee. But Baar said he was not so sure.

"I wouldn't touch it with a 10-foot pole" said Councilman Harry A. Barbier of the proposed site.

The San Rafael City Council also:

1. Passed to print an ordinance rezoning parts of Glenwood from planned community to single-family dwelling with 7,500 square foot lots. No one appeared at a public hearing on the change. Final passage should come Feb. 15.

2. Opened a hearing on the proposed Francisco Boulevard Assessment District, then agreed to keep it open through the Feb. 15 session to hear from the only objector, Lee R. Ceccotti of Larkspur, who owns 20 per cent of the land involved.

3. Granted an encroachment permit for Tele-Vue Systems of Marin to install a cable antenna service in the city.

4. Met new City Engineer Ely Caillouette Jr., attending his first council meeting.

5. Approved an agreement with Fostmeier Construction Co. postponing, at least until June, the paving in front of Fire Station 4.

6. Agreed on a clause in the architect's contract for the new city hall setting a $100 per day bonus for early completion or "liquidated damages" if the job is finished late.

7. Authorized a joint power agreement with Marin County to install traffic signals at Manuel T. Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue on the Terra Linda-San Rafael city line.

8. Set for Feb. 15 hearings on the underground utilities ordinance, recommended for passage by the city planning commission last week, and on an appeal by sign maker Robert Bohanna from planning commission refusal to approve a lighted, rotating sign for Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., 1200 Fifth Avenue.

Alto Pumping Station Repairs To Be Split

Alto Sanitary District directors last night agreed to split costs with the City of Mill Valley for repairs of the Alto pumping station, estimated cost $5,500.

The board acknowledged a letter from the City of Mill Valley asking the district not to make any more annexations since the city's treatment plant which serves Alto is near capacity, reported director Carl O. Heynen Jr.

Valiant Plea To Council Fails; Jet To Be Junked

A valiant though unsuccessful plea was made to the Mill Valley City Council last night by Jerome C. Hauke to save the battered jet plane in Boyle Park.

Hauke, a city parks and recreation commissioner, called the plane "a wonderful toy" for his five children but said the big problem is maintenance. He charged the city does not give proper maintenance to city equipment, the plane included.

In final arguments, Hauke said the city has signs now saying, "Not a City Maintained Street" and "Not a City Maintained Lane" and he said, flashing a large hand printed sign, a sign could be erected: "Not a City Maintained Plane."

This might be followed, he said, with signs "Not a City Maintained Yacht Harbor" and "Not a City Maintained Slide."

Councilman Albert E. White said Hamilton Air Force Base personnel have inspected the plane and report it cannot be satisfactorily repaired, that the normal lifetime for such a plane as a toy is 18 to 24 months. He moved that the plane be junked.

The council voted 3-2 to junk the plane, Councilmen Joseph H. Sheeks and Secor voting "No."

Mrs. John T. Wolfe Jr. of 901 Las Pavadas Avenue, San Rafael, complained to San Rafael police yesterday that someone had entered her home Sunday through a sliding glass door in the family room, then departed with $19 after going through closets and drawers in two bedrooms.

Ferry Slip Interest Expressed

The city of Tiburon is "most interested" in buying the railroad ferry slip property on its water front, City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said today.

But the purchase talk is "very tenuous" and has not gone beyond an expression of interest from Southern Pacific Co. representatives and city officials, Rose said. No purchase price has been mentioned.

The ferry slip is on a piece of land some 100 feet wide on the waterfront and extends to nearby Paradise Drive. The ferry right of way extends out about a quarter mile into Racoon Straits.

On either side is land under option and planned for commercial development. The city now controls no waterfront land and the ferry slip property is within a block of downtown Tiburon.

REPUBLICAN REGISTERS CONSERVATIVE

Frederick Lewis Ullner, self-styled national chairman for a third political party, yesterday became the first Marin County voter to register as a "New Conservative."

The Santa Venetia man changed his registration from "Republican" at the Marin County clerk's office at 3 p.m. yesterday.

He listed himself as a television executive. He has announced he will use his former TV shop at 467 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, as temporary headquarters for the New Conservative Party.

County School Board Told It Should Have Budget Control

"County school boards should have complete control over their general fund budgets," E. J. Guidotti, former chairman of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, said last night.

"They should not have to get budget approval from the board of supervisors," he told about 30 representatives of neighboring school boards attending a Marin County Board of Education meeting.

The audience, composed of Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, Sonoma and Monterey county school officials, learned about Sonoma County's application of a new state law which permits county school boards to budget their own county tax funds.

Dr. Deforest Hamilton, Sonoma County superintendent of schools, reviewed the history of the law.

Guidotti saw advantages to both supervisors and school board in adopting the new system which can be adopted only if the supervisors agree.

"The supervisors have enough to do without getting into a field some have no interest in," he declared. "The county board of education members have been elected to handle school business. They should have fiscal responsibility for operation of the county schools office.

"They have to answer to the people on the tax rate for school use so they should be able to adopt their budget without having to get supervisorial approval also."

Sonoma, Del Norte and Siskiyou counties are working under the new system, Hamilton said.

The school officials also discussed a recent study by Arthur D. Little, Inc., Cambridge, Mass., consultant, on organization of the California State Department of Education. The study will be discussed at the Assn. of California County Superintendents of Schools conference at Asilomar March 21-24.

At the end of the meeting, the Marin County board awarded a series of contracts for instructional supplies.

The Marin County board set a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 10 to discuss matters scheduled for last night's meeting which were postponed.

Belvedere Parks, Rec Member Is Appointed

G. Roger Felton, 201 Bayview Avenue, last night was appointed to the Belvedere Parks and Recreation Commission by the city council.

He replaces Mrs. Nancy Neal, 320 Golden Gate Avenue, who resigned after three and one-half years to continue her psychology studies. The term expires in the spring of 1966.

Felton has resided in Belvedere for four years. He is an advertising artist with Schmidt Lithograph Co. in San Francisco. He has worked on the commission project to landscape along San Rafael Avenue. He ran for the city council last April.

Recreation Tax Election Procedure Is Questioned

Recreation Director Robert Bundy last night questioned the procedure under which the Town of Corte Madera was calling for a special recreation tax election, saying he feared the money would not be earmarked to the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission.

Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis said he had written the ordinance setting the tax and calling for the election under the only enabling state law he could find, although the law speaks of "facilities" rather than "programs."

Davis also brought up another problem. He said county officials may refuse to allow consolidation of the election with school district elections April 20.

The council has called for an election to limit Corte Madera to a tax of up to six cents for $100 assessed valuation for recreation. The town can levy a recreation tax of up to 20 cents under state law, without voter approval.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Councilman Charles F. Pendleton pledged that as long as they were on the council the money raised would go to the joint commission program.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said that if county Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis refuses to consolidate the election, another date should be selected.

THEY LIKE COLD—Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo polar bears, Alfred and Bea, unlike most other Midwesterners, enjoy the present cold snap and wrap their teeth around the ice-coated bars of their enclosure. (UPI Telephoto)

March Date Is Seen For Plan Hearing

Final hearing on the San Rafael General Plan probably will be held in March, City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen predicted last night.

Andersen told the city council he expected Daniel P. Coleman and William Spangle, who prepared the plan, to have their last revisions ready for the Feb. 15 council session. They had earlier hoped to present them last night.

If they make it to the next meeting, Andersen said, councilmen should be able to set the hearing for the March 1 or 15 session.

Census Bureau Chief Quitting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Scammon is quitting as director of the Census Bureau after nearly four years on the job.

White House press secretary George E. Reedy said Scammon had resigned to return to private research.

Compromise Seen In Water Fight

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California and Arizona appear to be headed toward settlement of their long fight over the Colorado River water.

Gov. Brown said yesterday he is optimistic because of a statement by Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., that he will accept a compromise Southwest regional water plan in the Senate if it gets past the House.

"This represents a big step in bringing California and Arizona together," Brown said of Hayden's position.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, Gov. Sam Goddard of Arizona and Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., were present at weekend negotiations on the problem.

The compromise would:

—Guarantee California 4.4 million acre-feet of Colorado River water until facilities are built upstream to funnel 2.5 million more acre-feet into the main stream. Estimates put the time for this at 25 years.

—Provide immediate authorization for the basic works of a regional plan which includes the multi-billion dollar Central Arizona Project to irrigate large agricultural areas; Bridge and Marble Canyon Dam projects; Hooker Dam; and the Southern Nevada Water Supply project.

—Establish a fund from money produced by the various projects to pay for further water development in the region.

Unruh Takes Chair From Chief Demo Foe

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature, after a month of organizational work, increased its tempo today with Assembly committees appointed and the Senate planning action on a major auto smog bill.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, made one major change by removing his chief Democratic opponent, Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr. of Merced, from the chairmanship of the Criminal Procedure Committee.

Winton made an unsuccessful fight against Unruh in the 1961 speakership race and has refused to vote for the Assembly leader in the last three contests for speaker.

Winton said of his lost job:

"It was no surprise or shock. This is politics. You reward your friends and you punish your enemies."

Replacing Winton as head of the important committee was Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa.

Unruh made one other major change, replacing Los Angeles Democrat Edward E. Elliott with Los Angeles Democrat Mervyn M. Dymally as chairman of the Industrial Relations Committee.

Elliott, however, was named head of the Constitutional Amendments Committee, a vacant spot.

The Senate's chief job was action on a bill to waive penalties on used car owners who don't have smog control devices installed by the end of 1965.

The upper house voted 35-0 to suspend the rules for immediate passage of the measure, but then final action on the bill was delayed at the request of Senate President Pro Tem Hugh Burns, D-Fresno.

Standing by is a bill sponsored by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, which would copletely revamp current auto smog control laws.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

THE GOVERNOR

Named Los Angeles bank economist Abner Goldstine as new chief deputy savings and loan commissioner of California. Replaces Gareth Sadler, new commissioner.

Desperate Measure

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vermont is noted for the ski areas among its mountains. But this winter there was no snow for weeks. So, in order to keep in practice, a group of Vermont ski instructors swallowed their pride and came to New York City's Van Cortland Park. The park has an ample supply of machine-made snow.

The houseboat trade in Kashmir, which languished after Indian independence and the British exodus, has revived.

Marin Real Estate Sales Triple During Count Of Six-Year Period

Real estate sales tripling in six years is the picture presented by the Marin County Real Estate Board in its release of completed multiple listing figures.

Completed sales for 1964 show a new high of $60,578,341, with 2,068 transactions involved. This is more than 10 million dollars higher than sales for 1963, and a heavy jump over the 43 million dollars sales in 1962. In 1958, sales for the year were $20,238,059.

New president of the board Hugh Marchant notes that there is a time lag between reporting a sale and actual closing, so there's a good backlog of incomplete transactions being carried over into 1965.

DOING BUSINESS as Boyd and Hoffman, Tax Consultants, two Marin men—Dean C. Boyd of Larkspur and Philip H. Hoffman of Tiburon—have opened offices at 356 San Anselmo, San Anselmo, offering income tax, accounting and bookkeeping services.

Boyd was formerly 15 years with the Internal Revenue Service, including two years as assistant chief of the office audit branch in San Francisco. Hoffman was an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for six years and taught at the Universities of Arizona and California.

HERE AND OUTSIDE MARIN: Charles J. Hendrickson of Kentfield has been elected to the board of governors of the Eldorado Insurance Exchange. He is a member of the San Rafael Planning Commission, a director of the Space Age Small Business Investment Corp., and a member of the Urban Renewal Corp. . . .

Insurance broker Eric Wilkinson of Terra Linda and his partner Grant Weaver, co-owners of Pacific Air Academy at San Jose have expanded their company to include facilities of the former Western Aircraft and Engine Service at the Hayward Municipal Airport. Gene W. Smith, known among Marin flyers, is chief pilot and will oversee flight operations which include flight and ground schools and charter and rental of aircraft at both locations. Pacific Air also features servicing and sales. . . .

David Baldwin of Sausalito has inaugurated a new real estate development near Donner Lake called Soma Sierra — homes for skiers and summertime vacationers. . . .Former PG&E division manager Frank Pape who used to live in San Rafael was first to take occupancy at Rossmore Leisure World, Walnut Creek.

SAN RAFAEL BUILDERS HARDWARE, 425-A Irwin Street, San Rafael has been purchased by Capitol Builders Hardware of Sacramento. Henry Brunhoeber will remain as Bay Area representative. Same address.

MOVES: Louis Torresan's Modern Cabinet Shop from 450 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo to 27 Mariposa Street, San Anselmo. Same telephone number. . . . J Guilder and Co., Inc. general contracting offices from Greenbrae to 60 Louise Street, San Rafael. New telephone number.

BANKERS LIFE NEBRASKA representatives James C. Tongue Jr. of Corte Madera and Frederick J. Santos of San Anselmo have earned top production club honors for their company in 1964. Each issued more than a half-million dollars of new insurance protection during the year.

Purity Reports Earnings Rise

Purity Stores, Inc. has reported earnings in 1964 of $809,645, or $1.18 per share, on the basis of preliminary unaudited statements.

President John R. Niven said it was an 18 per cent gain over 1963 earnings of $688,257, or $1.00 per share, and represents the third year the company has shown an increase in profits.

Sales of $109,150,816 were reported for 1964, as compared to 1963 sales of $105,460,483. Purity's equity in earnings of its wholly-owned realty subsidiaries was $281,575 for 1964, compared to $193,754 for the previous year.

Purity added five new stores during 1964 for a total of 91, Niven said. Six additional stores are already scheduled for 1965.

Stocks Close Mixed With Gains, Losses

Lockheed rose more than a point amid unconfirmed reports that Britain plans to buy Lockheed planes.

Western Union also advanced more than a point.

Many key stocks were mixed, showing fractional gains and losses.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.3 million shares compared with 5.75 million yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were scattered throughout the list of key stocks.

General Motors weathered an early loss of 1¾ amid disappointment that the directors did not propose a stock split, but cut the loss to a small fraction.

Ford steadied, edging higher. Chrysler traded at a fractional loss.

Steels improved. Fractional gains were posted for U.S. Steel, Losses of a point were taken by Du Pont and IBM. Up about a point were American Smelting (ex dividend) and Union Carbide (ex dividend).

General Tire continued as the volume leader, responding further to its dividend increase and adding a fraction.

Xerox was off about 2. Down about a point were Cities Service, Richfield Oil and Johnson & Johnson.

Prices were higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Telephone Earning Gains Low

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Telephone's net income for 1964 was nearly $2 million higher than in the previous year, but the gain on earnings boiled down to only two cents a share.

The company yesterday reported 1964 neti ncome at $159,407,000 or $1.47 a share. The 1963 figures were $157,126,000 or $1.45 a share.

President Carl O. Lindeman said Pacific Telphone could not have earned its dividend had a State Public Utilities Commission rate cut order gone into effect during 1964. The order is under review by the State Supreme Court.

Earnings per share would have dropped by 25 cents, Lindeman said, "which is almost the entire margin of earnings over the present common dividend rate of $1.20."

Lindeman said the company will spend a record $445 million on construction in California and, "We must have adequate earnings to support expenditures of this size. Our earnings are too low, even now . . ."

Department Stores Elect New Officer

At a recent meeting of directors of the Emporium Capwell Co., John D. Wagner was elected a vice president. For the past year he has been manager of Capwell's, and has been with the company since 1935.

The board also declared a dividend of 30 cents per share, payable March 10 to stock of record Feb. 19.

Quarterly Dividend

During the meeting today of the Board of Directors of Title Insurance and Trust Co., a regular quarterly dividend of 55 cents per share was declared, payable March 10, 1965, to shareholders of record Feb. 11, 1965.

CITY COUNCILMEN MAKE HAY WHILE MAYOR McINNIS AWAY

With His Honor absent from last night's meeting, the council held the shortest session in some months.

Vice-mayor Charles W. Aby took note of the brief agenda and hustled the session through to adjournment at 9:13, one hour and 13 minutes after it was called to order.

Escaped Camp Prisoner Arrested In Kidnaping Case

Two men—one of them a San Quentin Prison conservation camp escapee — were arrested yesterday near Oklahoma City on federal charges of kidnaping three Pomona residents, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced today.

Arrested yesterday near Oklahoma City were Allen Eugene Reed, 25, and Ivan Daniel Neighbors, 27, both of Wilmington, Los Angeles County.

Reed escaped Dec. 21 from the prison's Chamberlain Creek Camp near Willits. He was serving a six-month to 14-year term for assault.

Officers of the Oklahoma Highway Patrol, who arrested the two, said they were heavily armed but offered no resistance.

The two were accused in a federal complaint of forcing Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McLane and a neighbor, Mrs. Robin Wilson, into a car trunk last Saturday in Pomona and driving them to Yuma, Ariz. There they abandoned the car.

Police in Pomona said the three victims were kidnaped at gunpoint by two men who earlier held up a restaurant near West Covina, Los Angeles County.

The holdup men forced the restaurant manager to hand over $417. They shot a witness in the back as he followed them to try to get their auto license number, and flattened a police car's tire with a bullet during their escape.

Near the McLane home, police said, they abandoned their car. They knocked on the door and whipped out pistols when McLane answered, telling him, "We need transportation and we're all going for a ride."

The McLanes' 7-year-old son was allowed to stay in his bed asleep while they and their visiting neighbor, Mrs. Wilson, were ordered to crawl into the trunk of the McLane car.

In Yuma, the bandits bought another car, drove both cars five miles south of the city and abandoned the one with the kidnap victims, police said. Ten minutes later, McLane pried open the trunk with a wrench.

Injury Suit Is Filed In Auto Crash

A San Francisco attorney, exonerated in the drowning one year ago today of a man in a sports car which plunged over the Sausalito seawall, has filed a personal injury damage suit in the accident.

Thomas Michael Ryan and his wife, Colette Marie, co-plaintiff, are asking $15,500 in Marin Superior Court from Marjorie I. Kelley, a librarian and resident at Dominican College in San Rafael.

A car driven by Miss Kelley and one driven by Ryan collided on Bridgeway shortly before the fatality.

The suit alleges negligent driving by Miss Kelley resulted in the accident and that Mrs. Ryan suffered brain concussion and facial scars. The husband suffered lung injury and a right hand scar, it is also alleged.

Ryan's car careened on over the seawall, plunging the Ryans and their passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bernard Gray of San Francisco, and Robin Sanborn, 30, of 200 Sausalito Boulevard, Sausalito, into the water.

Gray died and on March 4 a coroner's jury ruled it accidental drowning.

During inquest testimony, Miss Kelley said her car was sideswiped by a vehicle which veered onto her side of the street. Her passenger, Eleanor Matheu, a teacher in San Francisco, gave a similar account. The women did not identify the car's driver.

Burglars Get Money, Liquor At Clubhouse

Burglars broke a high east window of the Indian Valley Golf Course clubhouse near Novato last Saturday and made off with $6 in pennies and a small quantity of liquor, candy and cigarettes, Marin County sheriff's officers reported today.

The break-in was discovered by Albert L. Leach, club manager. He told officers the pennies were taken from cash registers. Three quarts of liquor and about three cases of beer were taken from the bar.

Edward H. Riggins, of Clearlake Highlands, Lake County, told deputies his station wagon was looted of clothes and about $100 cash while he was surfing last Saturday near Terrace Avenue in Bolinas.

Another surfer, Wyborn F. Mercer, 45 Spring Lane, Tiburon, reported a pair of trousers and $1.50 cash were taken Saturday from his car parked nearby on Channel Road in Bolinas.

New Copter Is Added To Bay Fleet

A million-dollar, 26 passenger helicopter arrived in the Bay Area today to join the fleet of busy whirlybirds that connect Marin and other points with San Francisco International Airport.

The Sikorsky S61N has two 1-250-horsepower jet turbines, a five-bladed rotor and a cruising speed of 140 m.p.h.

It will be put into service March 1 by San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Lines. Another identical machine is to join the SFO fleet later in the year, according to M. F. Bagan, president of the line.

The helicopters now in use by the 4-year-old company carry only 10 passengers and are powered only by single jet turbines. Bagan said addition of the bigger machines will permit extension of service and speeding of existing schedules.

The big S61N was ferried from Los Angeles to San Francisco yesterday, carrying newsmen and officials of the airlines. It flew at 2,000 feet and above, and gave passengers a fine view of the California Coast Range.

The big helicopter landed first at Oakland Airport where it was greeted by city officials and more newsmen. They took a brief ride in the craft.

The same procedure was repeated at San Francisco International Airport.

Medic Attention Writ Is Denied

A writ application by inmate Joseph B. Morse, 23, requesting medical attention at San Quentin Prison was denied yesterday by Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court.

Morse, now on Death Row and a principal figure in a 1964 State Supreme Court ruling which granted new penalty trials to 19 prisoners, had complained of being denied proper medical attention.

Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said a prison doctor informed investigators that Morse had a complete physical examination as recent as Jan. 7.

Brown Says He'll Fight Re-mapping

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today pledged to oppose any reapportionment of the California Assembly and renewed his opposition to realignment of the Senate.

Brown, in his weekly news conference, said he would do "everything possible through our state attorney general's office and possibly with private counsel to fight Assembly reapportionment."

A lawsuit asking for realignment of the lower house is now before a federal court in Los Angeles.

The California Assembly is based on population, although the lawsuit claims there are some inequities.

SENATE ORDER

The Senate, aligned along geographical lines, already has been ordered by the courts to reapportion by July 1.

The governor said he still favored and would continue to work for a constitutional amendment permitting one house of each legislature to be aligned on a basis other than population.

The chief executive said he had discussed the problem with a congressional reapportionment steering committee and had been advised "that it is almost impossible to get such a constitutional amendment approved."

Brown also said he would ask the courts to expedite rulings on Assembly reapportionment because "the uncertainity is having a bad affect upon the state of California."

The governor said he had been working in recent weeks with advisers and had come up with a "good, fair reapportionment plan for the Senate. But I will not interfere. The Senate should be the ones to handle their own reapportionment."

Brown then refused to be pinned down on his future political plans.

Under questioning, the governor said he had reached no decision on whether to seek a third term in 1966.

KUCHEL POPULAR

When asked about a recently published poll which showed Republican Sen. Thomas Kuchel running ahead of him in popularity, Brown answered:

"There was a poll that showed Richard Nixon running far ahead of Brown. Brown won the election, however."

The governor said until he begins campaigning around the state, "I generally am behind in the polls."

Other statements from Brown:

Regarding a proposal by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh D-Inglewood, that the business inventory tax be eliminated — "We are assessing the situation now, but should the tax be eliminated more than $225 million will be shifted from the businessman to the general public in sales or incomes taxes."

In regard to the bracero program — "As of a week ago we were supplying all the farm labor needed in Imperial Valley without use of the bracero program. The cry that the bracero program had to be extended now has been proven a mistake."

Teen Chamber Idea Endorsed

Supt. James G. Bunker of Novato Unified School District and Principal Robert Wisgerhof of Novato High School are enthusiastic about starting a junior chamber at the high school, reported chamber member Elmer Anderson. He said it may be started before the close of the current school year.

World cigarette output in 1963 was up four per cent to a total of 2,466 billion pieces, the Foreign Agriculture Service reports.

EYE TESTING PROGRAM SET FOR NOVATO

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night approved an eye testing program for pre-school children.

It will be done sometime during the week of Feb. 15, said Edward W. Adams, director, through cooperation of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Wrong-Way Driver Hits Marin Car

Pare had just driven out of the Park Presidio Boulevard tunnel and was heading toward the Golden Gate Bridge at 12:57 a.m. He told highway patrolmen he saw nothing until he woke up seconds later, his head hurting and his car a wreck.

He had collided with a car driven by Ethel Thomas, 65, of Berkeley, who was driving straight toward him, going south in the northbound lanes of the divided road.

Miss Thomas told highway patrolmen she had been heading north when she came to the "Y" intersection where she had to decide whether to go toward the bridge or the Marina. She didn't want either route so she stopped her car, turned it around and headed back south —but in the northbound lanes.

Pare, 27, of 30 Saint Jude Road, was treated for a cut chin and thumb and bruised arm at Park Emergency Hospital in San Francisco. Miss Thomas was treated for "emotional upset" at the hospital.

Meeting Postponed

Marinwood Park and Recreation District's regular meeting for February has been postponed to next Monday at 8 p.m. in the community center on Miller Creek Road. Chairman Jerrol L. Flood said floor refinishing work in the center caused the postponement from last night.

Corte Madera Garbage Rate Hike Sought

Increases of 50 to 75 cents in monthly garbage collection rates for a single 30-gallon can will be asked in Corte Madera, attorney William T. Bagley, representing the Mill Valley Refuse Service, said last night.

Bagley said the company intends to ask a rate increase to bring rates for Corte Madera residents up to those being charged in Larkspur by Marin Sanitary Service — that is $2 per month for one 30-gallon can in level areas and $2.50 in hill areas.

The present rate is $1.50 for level areas and $1.75 in the hills. Bagley said the company is losing money in Corte Madera now, grossing $69,500 a year while spending $80,500.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said the Mill Valley company's franchise will expire in June and at that time the town garbage ordinance shoud be revised and the agreement rewritten.

Bagley agreed, he said the company would offer the town one major plum, a big increase in the payment to the city for the franchise. The present payment is a flat $50 a month. This would be raised to 5 per cent of gross take, or about $4,100 a year, he said.

He also said the company would like a franchise for a longer term than the last 10-year one. He suggested 15 years with a 10-year renewal clause. He said the company has a 25-year commitment from the Richmond dump.

Governor Outlines Flood Relief Plans

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A $43 million, four-point flood relief program for Northern California was announced by Gov. Brown today.

Brown told his news conference the money is needed to help the area recover from "on of the greatest natural and economic disasters in Northern California history."

Brown proposed:

1. A six-month, 1-cent-a gallon increase in the present 7-cent a gallon gasoline tax to raise up to $37 million to repair battered local streets, roads and bridges.

2. Use of $1 million from the 1958 Flood Relief Act plus $2 million more from the General Fund to restore public facilities other than roads.

3. Legislation to provide $500,000 in operating funds for local school districts to meet property tax losses.

4. A bill to pour $2.5 million in General Fund money to aid other local government agencies to replace lost property tax money.

In a message to the legislature accompanying his program, Brown said damage to public and private property in the area now stands at $145 million.

Federal funds will help pay much of the bill, he said, but state aid is also needed.

Supervisor Ask Bald Eagles For Boyd Museum

Marin County supervisors today passed a resolution asking that two eagles killed at Point Reyes Jan. 23 be preserved and turned over to the Louise A. Boyd Museum of Natural Science in San Rafael for display.

Meanwhile, U.S. Atty. Cecil S. Pool was expected to decide today whether he would prosecute rancher Leroy Martinelli for killing two bald eagles when they attacked his sheep.

The bald eagle is the national bird and is protected under federal law. Penalty is a fine of up to $500 and six months in jail.

The supervisors' resolution will be sent to Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, Senators Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy and Rep. Don H. Clausen.

Board Balks At Paying For Hydrant

The hydrant had been recommended by Chief George Cavallero of Novato Fire District. North Marin County Water Districtr efused to supply water to the new school unless the fire district's requirements were met.

Trustees of the school district last night unanimously rejected the requirement.

"The plans for the school were approved by the state fire marshal before the state allocations board would give us the money," said William Kirk, board president. "They have no right to refuse water service if we don't go along with the recommendations of the fire department."

Kirk said the school would be "the most fireproof building in Novato."

"It's only a matter of about $2,000 to put in the second fire hydrant," said Jerome B. Gilbert, water district manager.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

1. Approved annexation of the Sinaloa Junior High School site to the Novato Sanitary District.

2. Granted a leave of absence to Jane O'Brien for the second semester as English teacher at Novato High School, and hired Gene W. Hendrix as mathematics and science teacher at Hill Junior High School and Novato High School, and Janet F. Miller as English teacher at the high school.

Ed Bailey 'Comes Home;' Giants Trade O'Dell

In a move to get more reserve batting power on their bench, the San Francisco Giants have traded pitcher Billy O'Dell for catcher Ed Bailey of the Milwaukee Braves.

It was the first major swap of the 1965 season for the Giants. Team vice president Chub Feeney said it was a trade without money.

"I'm tickled to death about this trade," said Giants manager Herman Franks, reached by phone at his home in Salt Lake City. "I'm glad to have Bailey. We've been trying to get him for months.

"This guy gives you a little life, a little chatter. But more than that, he gives you some punch. He's a hell of a hitter."

Bailey, who will be 34 in April, was with the Giants from 1961 through 1963. He was traded to Milwaukee before the 1964 season, along with Felipe Alou, Billy Hoeft and Ernie Bowman in a deal for pitchers Bob Hendley and Bob Shaw and catcher Del Crandall.

O'Dell, a Giants regular starter in 1963 when he tossed a 14-10 season, was used as a relief hurler last season because of various injuries.

The Giants also will give the Braves a catcher, to be named later, for a Milwaukee farm club. The Giants now have five catchers and must cut to three before the season opens.

Bailey, who with O'Dell was a member of the 1962 Giants team that won the National League pennant, played in 95 games for the Braves last season. He hit .262 for his 271 trips to the plate, but also was on the injured list part of the season.

The Giants apparently plan to use the veteran catcher — who throws right and bats left-handed—for pinch hit situations.

O'Dell, who will be 32 on Feb. 10, ends five years on the San Francisco roster. He was with the Baltimore squad five years prior to coming to the Giants in 1960.

The lefty pitcher was 8-7 last season for the Giants, mostly in relief, but had a 56-49 record for his five years with the club.

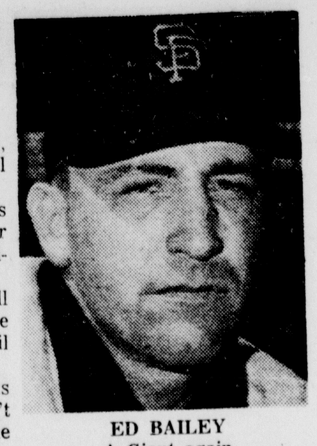

Feeney's swap announcement said Bailey will report to the Giants' spring training camp at Casa Grande, Ariz., and O'Dell will leave immediately for the Braves' spring training.

"With a guy like Bailey," Franks commented, "you've got a real threat on the bench if you need a hitter in the seventh, eighth or ninth inning of a ball game."

He indicated that the Giants will use Tom Haller as their first string catcher, saving Bailey for emergencies.

In addition to Haller, Crandall and Bailey, the Giants have rookies Jack Hiatt and Cecil Hundley in their catcher pool.

"We'll see what happens this spring," Franks said, "I don't have to cut anybody for a while yet."

Floyd Patterson Decisions Chuvalo

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jubilant Floyd Patterson, aiming for a record third heavyweight crown, had a promise of a title fight from king Cassius Clay today following his rousing victory over George Chuvalo in 12 bruising rounds.

"You've got the title fight, Floyd," Clay shouted, "you've earned it."

But first the 30-year-old Patterson, seemingly relegated to boxing's scrapheap after his two first round knockout defeats to Sonny Liston, will have to wait out the Liston-Clay return in Boston in May or June. He may take a return fight with Chuvalo while he's marking time.

Clay, who had disdainfully called the former two-time heavyweight champion a "rabbit," changed his tune after watching Patterson hammer out a unanimous decision over the gallant, blood-smeared Canadian champion before a standing room only crowd of 19,100 last night at Madison Square Garden.

Working as a between-the-rounds commentator for the closed circuit telecast, Clay, at one point, said "Floyd would have beat Liston fighting like this."

Patterson seemed as happy to prove "my chin isn't made of china" as he was over the verdict in the savage slugfest that drew constant roars from the huge throng. Patterson earned the decision by landing more punches — mostly to the head — than his body-bombing foe. There were no knockdowns.

"I proved I could take a punch and come back fighting although he hurt me at times," Patterson repeated over and over to the fresh waves of newsmen entering his dressing room.

"I think my opponent gained more in defeat than I did in victory. He was a tough, stubborn man. It was like trying to fell an oak tree."

The virtually unmarked victor, first man ever to win and lose the heavyweight crown twice, said he would like to fight Clay right off but that if he had to wait he would like to fight Chuvalo again first.

"He deserves another chance," said Patterson.

"I'd like it more than anything else," said the crestfallen Canadian. "The referee (Zach Clayton) just wouldn't let me fight my fight. Every time I started to get going, the referee would break us up."

Although Patterson said Clay told him that he (Clay) would like to fight him next, Clay' manager, Angelo Dundee, said Liston comes first.

"Clay will fight Patterson but first he has to fulfill his contract to give Liston a chance to regain the title," said Dundee.

That return fight caused the World Boxing Association to dethrone Clay. The WBA has approved as a title fight, a clash between Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen at Chicago March 5.

Patterson could get a shot at the winner but he said he prefers Clay.

"If I can beat Clay and then Liston, I'll call it a career," he said.

Patterson couldn't floor the rugged, 27-year-old Chuvalo but he bombed his head with everything he had — and often. He cut him over the left eye and chopped other nicks and bruises on Chuvalo's face with his flashing volleys.

In the process, Floyd absorbed a hundred or more thumping wallops to the ribs and belly. It seemed that the 208-pound Chuvalo had to topple his smaller, 197¼ pound foe before the 12th, but grimly, determined Patterson refused to fall.

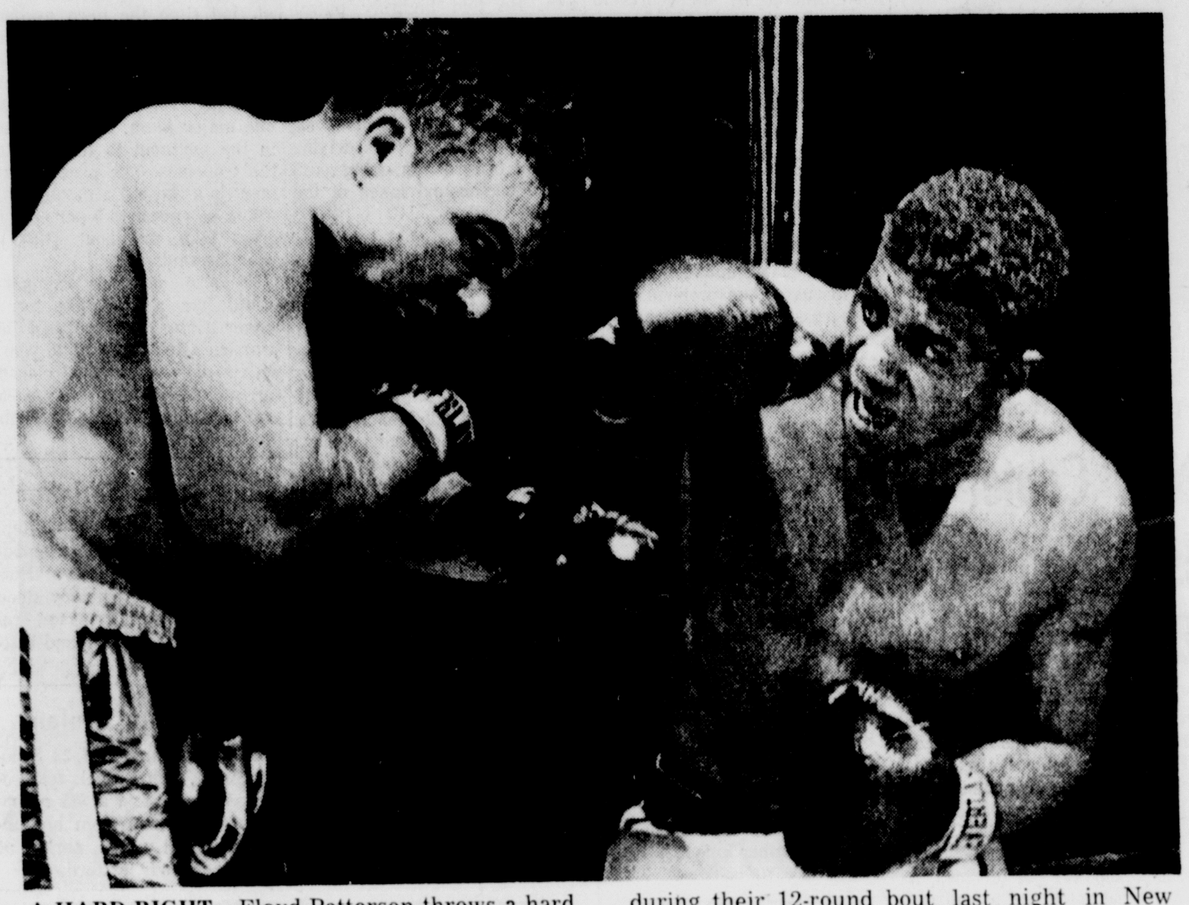

Not only that, at the finish he was belting the bleeding Chuvalo all over the ring.

Clayton scored the fight 6-5-1 in rounds. Judge Tony Castellano had it 7-5 and judge Joe Armstrong, 8-4, all for Patterson. The Associated Press had Patterson in front, 9-2-1. A ringside poll gave Patterson the edge, 18 to 2, with one writer calling it a draw. Most gave Patterson eight rounds or more.

The crowd paid $166,423 for the first Garden sellout since the Clay-Doug Jones fight on March 12, 1963. The closed circuit television and other ancillary rights probably added about $300,000 to the promotional pot. Patterson will collect about $135,000 and Chuvalo about $60,000.

Patterson's record is 42-4, Chuvalo's 29-9-2.

"It wasn't a title fight, but it was one of my most satisfying victories," said Patterson, a fighting millionaire. "I was out to win and please. If I didn't I would have quit."

Bronc Coach Raps 'Technical' Calls

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Santa Clara coach Dick Garibaldi says technical fouls have become too technical.

Garibaldi told yesterday's luncheon of Northern California Basketball Writers that he drew a technical last weekend just for telling referee Fred Silva the truth.

"All I said was that we were filming the game," the coach related, "and I would like to show him the pictures next week."

But the coaches weren't just complaining about last weekend. They were already looking toward crucial road trips north into Oregon.

"You have to do well on the road," said Stanford coach Howie Dallmar, whose charges have dropped five of seven away from home.

Stanford plays Oregon at Eugene Friday night, then moves to Corvallis to meet Oregon State. California, winner of only one of six road games, plays Oregon State on Friday and Oregon the next night.

"Oregon and Oregon State both make you play their game," he said. "They don't make many mistakes and they wait for the good shot."

Of his own charges Herrerias commented sadly: "We are now doing our practicing at a school for the blind and maybe that is a good place."

Pacific Athletic Conference teams, who have been avoiding each other for two weekends, return to full league activity this weekend.

UCLA leads the PAC pack with a 4-0 mark, followed by 2-2 records shared by Stanford, Oregon, Washington, Washington State and USC.

Before the luncheon, speculation ran to the likelihood of UCLA and University of San Francisco meeting again in the western National Collegiate Athletic Association finals.

The speculators, including Stanford coach Dallmar, generally agreed that the two are evenly matched but UCLA has an edge in reserves.

Dallmar's Indians have lost to both UCLA and USF this season. Last year UCLA beat USF on its way to the NCAA championship.

Tulsa Quint Upsets USF Dons, 59-53

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa University upset eighth-ranked San Francisco 59-53 last night in a hard-fought defensive battle which seldom saw more than two points separate the two teams.

Tulsa outplayed the Dons on the boards by grabbing 38 rebounds to 27 for San Francisco, one of the nation's top rebounding teams.

The Hurricanes broke out of the two-point spread by outscoring San Francisco 15-3 in the final 5½ minutes of play led by Bob Fedorko. He dropped in nine of his 16 points in the stretch drive.

Herman Callands of Tulsa held San Francisco's Ollie Johnson to nine points and 10 rebounds while matching him in both categories. Johnson had a season average of 20.2 points per game.

If Writers Leave O'Doul Alone He'll Make It To Hall Of Fame

HANLEY

San Francisco baseball writers have been a bit boring in their annual demands that Lefty O'Doul be enshrined in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown. Perhaps it is their nagging persistence that has irritated the Hall of Fame selection committee into ignoring O'Doul once again.

Sometimes well intentioned friends are more detrimental than enemies. For years now the writing fraternity on the tip o' the peninsula has been wailing about the injustice being done to O'Doul. There has been no subtlety, about the campaign. C'Doul has been embarrassed by it. He appreciates better than his fumbling friends that there is a long list of worthy Hall of Fame candidates among old timers such as himself.

THIS YEAR, FOR the first time, the San Francisco writers took the proper approach in their campaign. They approached the problem from a positive angle. They finally realized that they had written reams of copy about O'Doul but never previously had honored him formally.

So they voted unanimously to do honor to Lefty at their annual baseball writers dinner on Feb. 14. The date is fitting for their enduring romance with O'Doul. It is Valentine's Day. Lefty will be presented with a trophy inscribed "For Long and Outstanding Service to Baseball."

NOW, NOBODY can find fault with that because O'Doul's service to baseball has been long and outstanding. But his writing friends weren't content to let the matter rest there. Once again they began beating the drums in a monotonous din, demanding O'Doul's immediate entrance into the Hall of Fame. And once again the Hall of Fame committee turned a deaf ear.

O'Doul will be 68 on March 4 and this spring, when he tutors youngsters in batting lessons at the minor league training base of the Giants in Arizona, will be Lefty's 48th consecutive year in spring training.

THERE AREN'T many men left in baseball with a continuous record of nearly half a century. Still, there are more than can be counted on both hands. But there has been no hue and cry in their behalf about the Hall of Fame although the credentials of some look pretty good. Ultimately, they will make it—on their own.

And O'Doul, with his lifetime batting average of .349 for 11 years in the majors, probably would have already made it on his own if his tip o' the peninsula pals hadn't kept harping on what is obvious.

Jockey Blum Wins Award

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—The George Woolf Memorial Jockey Award goes to Walter Blum, 30, the nation's winningest jockey in 1963 and 1964, who's currently out of racing because of injuries.

The award, to be given Feb. 16, was voted by turf writers and sports editors covering the current meeting here at Santa Anita Park. The award is named for a jockey who died in a 1949 riding accident.

Blum, who expects to be racing again by the end of this month, suffered painful injuries in a spill on Dec. 29,

Bob Hope Tourney To Start

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —The $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic gets underway tomorrow, a 90-hole marathon played over four golf courses that marks the return to the winter circuit of such popular standouts as Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

It's a complicated event that consumes five days as far as the pro-amateur competition is involved, but the main loot is the winning individual pro score after the 90 holes—$15,000 and an expensive sedan.

There will be 128 pro-am teams, which means there will be 128 pros and 384 amateurs, making a grand total of 512 players in action, at least for the first four days.

The low 70 pros go at it alone, or without benefit of the amateurs, in Sunday's final 18 holes.

Back to defend his 1964 title will be Tommy Jacobs, home pro of the host club, Bermuda Dunes, who beat out veteran Jimmy Demaret on the 92nd hole of a sudden-death playoff.

Each had finished the grind with scores of 353—Jacobs with 66-74-74-69-70, and the dapper Jimmy with 75-68-67-72-71.

S.F. WARRIORS TRADE 6-9 WAYNE HIGHTOWER

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Bullets announced today they have acquired forward Wayne Hightower from the San Francisco Warriors in a last minute National Basketball Association deal.

The Bullets gave up an undisclosed amount of cash and a future draft choice for Hightower, who they hope will strengthen their bench during the stretch run for a playoff berth.

To make room for Hightower, 6-foot-9 and a three-year NBA veteran, the Bullets put rookie Les Hunter on waivers. Hightower has a 10.6-point career scoring average.

At the same time the acquisition of Hightower was announced, a spokesman for owners Arnold Heft and Earl Foreman charged the management of the New York Knickerbockers with bad faith in negotiations for forward Art Heyman, former Duke star.

The Bullet spokesman said a verbal agreement had been made over Heyman's purchase, but the Knicks backed out minutes before the midnight trading deadline.

Measure Introduced To Investigate Pro Sports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced yesterday the introduction of a bill which sets the stage for investigation of the major professional team sports —baseball, basketball, football and hockey.

These include such things as agreements designed to equalize the playing strength of teams, club and interclub deals for the control and assignment of players, geographic rights and banding together to employ commissioners to police the sports.

Hart says some Congress members are far from convinced that pro sports can police themselves. Pro football's secret signing of college stars to contracts, before the young men had finished their amateur careers, has stirred a lot of resentment among legislators and will be examined at hearings on the bill, he said.

Spartans Still Without New Football Coach

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — San Jose State is expected to name its new head football coach by the end of the week.

Athletic director Bob Bronzan said yesterday that University of Oregon assistant Max Coley, a San Jose State halfback in the 1950s, had withdrawn his application because of the position's salary limitations.

Bronzan said four applicants were still under consideration, but he declined to name them. Two were known to be Harry Anderson, assistant to the recently-resigned Bob Titchenal, and Doug Scovil, an assistant to Wayne Hardin at Navy last season. Another assistant to Titchenal, Gene Menges, withdrew his name from the applicants' list last week.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Fishing Better Than Expected After Bad Weather Conditions

STEVENS

Seems like we are running the gamut of adverse fishing conditions. Rain, rough water, and now dense fog. Fog so dense, many fish lost their way. A combination of the three weather conditions have affected the fisherman more than the bass.

For example: Alice Quan of China Camp reported that when weather permitted, her customers have accounted for very good catches of flounders, some good striper fishing and, at least one nice sturgeon came in. And stripers to 28 pounds were unloaded at her dock over the weekend. Al Lockhart caught the largest bass of several nice catches that were reported and just about everybody who fished for flounders (small hooks and small pieces of bait) took away a nice string. Best returns were between the Pump House and the S.P. Buoy.

JOE NERVIANI of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia claimed that if and when the weather and water become calm there will be a very good return for the effort expended. Twenty nice stripers from 12 to 20 pounds came in over the weekend. Top rod was Bill Alameda's 70-pound white sturgeon.

HAYWARD FISHERIES reported Bill Johnson landing a bass of 22 pounds, 2 ounces near Buoy 21, Pittsburg; a 42-pound sturgeon caught by John Richter in S.P. Bay; Jim Purcall and Joe Wun reported the Fazzios taking a 14 and a 16-pound bass near Buoy 14, and one of the brothers catching a nice 21-pound bass, stringing it and sadly watching it swim away when the stringer broke.

BY THE way, readers interested in collecting a mess of catfish certainly stand a good chance of taking them in much of the back country area. I note that Mack McIntyre, a connoisseur of fish food, landed 20 nice catfish in 45 minutes. Mack did it while fishing Dutch Slough.

FRANK JOSEPH of Joseph's, rowboat tycoon of Rodeo, reported Jim Baggett with two friends taking near limits of bass Saturday on the Rodeo Flats. Fred Henniger came back to port with a 10 and a 21-pound bass. Frank Joseph, who has been in the business of catering to fishermen, believes conditions at present are normal. Many fishing but few connecting. But Frank also verified the report that throughout the upper San Pablo Bay anglers who actually fish for flounders (small hooks and small baits) are finding it very good.

FROM LEE Anderson's in Oakland came the report of the boat Duke No. 2 netting five bass to 16 pounds off China Camp on Saturday along with a 48-inch sturgeon, and a flock of flounders. In the same locale the boat Trade Winds boated 5 bass to 20 pounds and three sturgeon to 30 pounds. All bass reported apparently used bullheads for bait.

No encouraging report from the delta region as a whole. Bad weather blamed. And that's it for today.

PREP OF WEEK — Tam's Larry Gray (15), shown going up for two points in early season practice game, has been named Marin Athletic League's Prep of the Week for his performances against Redwood and Drake last week.

TAM STAR LARRY GRAY NAMED 'PREP OF WEEK'

Larry Gray, hot-shooting guard for the Tamalpais Indians, has been named Prep of the Week for his play last week in a pair of Marin Athletic League basketball games.

Gray, a 5-11 senior, took the game high scoring honors for both contests, catching the eyes of the Independent-Journal sports staff. Last Tuesday, against Redwood, Gray scored more than half his team's points but it was not enough for the win.

Although Redwood downed Tam, 58-45, Gray did all he could to avert the victory, scoring 26 points on 12 field goals and 2 free throws. Eighteen of those points were in the second half.

Then on Thursday, Gray came back to score 25 points to lead his Indians team to a 56-55 upset of the Drake Pirates. Making 11 of 18 shots from the floor, he added three charity tosses to reach the total.

That two-day performance pushed Gray to top of the list among the Marin Athletic League scorers. His total for the season now is 114 points in six games for a robust 19-point average per game.

Larry is the lone cager back from the 1963-64 season for Tam. He was one of the starting guards on that team and was expected to be the big man in this year's Tam lineup. He has lived up to the expectations.

EX-BIG LEAGUER EYES COMEBACK AS AN UMP

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — At 36, Dale Long is beginning another journey he hopes will take him back to the major leagues this time as an umpire.

Long is a former first baseman who set a record by hitting home runs in eight consecutive games for Pittsburgh in 1956.

Al Somers, dean of the Somer Umpiring School where Long is a student, predicts he will make the grade.

"Dale has the makings of a fine umpire, Somers said.

"He'll get a minor league job after he finishes the six weeks course and I believe he'll go all the way back to the majors, as an umpire this time."

Long has placed the tavern he owns in North Adams, Mass., up for sale and is staking his future on a new baseball career.

"Sure, I know I'll take a lot of laughs and the guys will get all over me, especially if I run into any of the guys I played with, said Long, who ended his major league career with the New York Yankees in 1963.

"But I can take it. I'm certain I'll make it as an umpire, but I want to make it as fast as I can. I've traveled that long, tough road to the big leagues before, from 1933 until I got up there in 1951. But baseball is what I love and I've tried a lot of ways to stay in the game.

"My wife and I talked it over before I decided to give umpiring a shot. We knew it meant more of the same thing I've been through before — bus rides in the bush towns, living in cheap hotels, scrimping on meals. But it was worth it then to go from the minors to the majors, and it'll be worth it again, although I hope this time the trip doesn't take as long."

The 6-foot-4 student will be 36 next Friday.

"I think the rule for umpires is like a little kid — be seen, not heard," Long said. "I'm learning a lot at the school. I describe it as a stage play. The umpire has a minor role.

"The rule book is the script. The players are the stars the people pay to see."

Aaron Sees, Likes Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — Hank Aaron has visited several residential areas of Atlanta and says he will move his family here from Milwaukee when the National League Braves come South in 1966.

The slugging Negro outfielder said Sunday he and his wife "visited in many residential sections of the city this morning and both my wife and I were awfully impressed. We saw some truly lovely houses down here."

Aaron flatly denied reports printed in Wisconsin newspapers quoting him as saying he would not move his family to Atlanta because he feared race relations might be poor.

"I said it would be hard to leave Milwaukee, where all of our close friends are, but I never said I wouldn't move here. That's just one of the many stories some writers have twisted," Aaron said.

Aaron indicated he had talked with real estate men during his short visit here with Eddie Mathews of the Braves. "My wife and I will be back, maybe not before the start of this season, but we will be back and looking," he said.

Marin Sheriff's Marksmen Win County Tourney

Marksmen from the Marin County Sheriff's Office walked away with honors at the First Marin County Winter Championships held by San Rafael police at their pistol range Saturday and Sunday.

The sheriff's "blue team" won with a score of 981 out of a possible 1,000. Second was the sheriff's "red team," with 976. San Rafael's first team was third with 936, while Novato officers scored 934 for a close fourth.

First place in individual competition was won by Sheriff's Sgt. Edward R. Levine, who scored a perfect 250. Second, third and fourth places were taken by Deputy Ernest Nielsen, Novato reserve officer Daniel L. Thomas and San Rafael patrolman Bart W. Stinson

ART JOHNSON MOVES UP IN 49ER CHAIN

Spadia said Johnson, 38, will be replaced as public relations director by George McFadden, also 38, former sports information director at the University of New Mexico.

McFadden, who had been with the University of New Mexico since 1952, takes over his new post on March 15, Spadia said.

Marin Club Lifts Title

The MarVel Athletic Club sent its weightlifting team to the annual San Francisco Open last Saturday and the boys came back winners.

The San Rafael team had an easy time of it, scoring 22 points, 12 points more than its nearest competitor, the team from the University of California.

Dan Schwed of Terra Linda won the 132-pound class and Chet Pape of San Rafael won the 198-pound class, both competing for the MarVel team. Other members of the MarVel team to earn points were:

Ed Gerson of San Anselmo, second in the 123-pound class; Rich Lindsey of San Rafael third in 132; Terry Johnson of San Rafael, third in 148; Joel Brower of Petaluma, second in 165; Walt Gioseffi of San Francisco, third in 165; and Carrol Varner of San Rafael, second in 198.

Rule Doesn't Worry Royal

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Darrell Royal, Texas football coach, visiting here, was asked what he thinks of the new substitution rule that means virtually two-platooning next fall.

"The new sub rule won't worry me," Royal said. "The people with the best athletes will still win. The ones who don't have them will be home watching TV on New Year's Day."

BASEBALL BANQUET

Sen. Bobby Kennedy Hits Grand Slammer

By MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP) — "I understand Yogi Berra is writing a book," said U.S. Senator Robert Kennedy with a boyish grin. "It's called 'Lucky To Be A Yankee'—as told to Mel Allen."

With that quip about the two fired members of the New York Yankee official family, Kennedy hit a grand slam homer at the awards dinner of the New York Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America after being introduced as "the only man on the dias with his own baseball team."

The show belonged to star players Brooks Robinson and Elston Howard, Hall of Famer Zach Wheat and veteran Umpire Jocko Conlan but Kennedy, batting in the clean-up spot among the speakers, stole the spotlight with a varied array of one-liners Sunday night.

The Democratic Senator from New York, stepped to the speakers' rostrum after his introduction and said he first wanted to pay tribute to the writers, who sometimes are the subject of considerable abuse.

"I have difficulty believing," he said, "those things Ted Williams said about you."

Then he looked down the dais, and pointed to Johnny Keane, who managed the St. Louis Cardinals to a World Series victory, then quit and signed with the Yankees.

"Keane's new to New York," said Kennedy, "and he's asked me to be his guide."

He pointed out that no one had accused Keane of being a carpetbagger but said considering everything he preferred politics to sports because "Im happier being a U.S. Senator than a Washington Senator. You stay around longer and the pay's better."

In conclusion, Kennedy made reference without mentioning names to the fact that the man he defeated for the Senate seat — Kenneth Keating — had been mentioned as a candidate for the office of baseball commissioner.

"I didn't run for the U.S. Senate to be commissioner of baseball," he said. "The job doesn't have enough power."

Kennedy's quips followed the presentation of awards. Robinson, Baltimore's third baseman, and the American League's Most Valuable Player, received the Sid Mercer Memorial Award as Player of the Year. Howard, the Yankees' catcher, was given the Ben Epstein Good Guy Award.

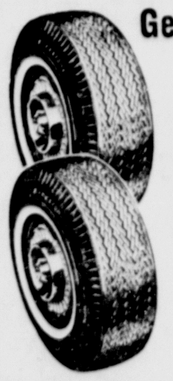

Wheat, former member of the Brooklyn Dodgers, received the Retroactive Award for past performances, and Conlan received the Bill Slocum Award for long and meritorious service to baseball.

Defrost orange juice until it can be removed easily from container. To defrost ducklings, leave in refrigerator about 24 hours. Then wash and dry. Arrange quarters skin side up in shallow roasting pan and bake in 325° oven 3 hours or until tender and browned. (If bony parts get crisp and dry, brush with vegetable oil and wrap firmly with aluminum foil.) One hour before duckling will be done, discard fat from pan and add ¼ cup water to prevent sticking. Orange Glaze: Mix orange juice, sugars, salt and cornstarch in heavy saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer, stirring constantly about 3 minutes or until transparent. 15 minutes before removing duck from oven, baste the quarters 2 or 3 times with the sauce. WHIRLS OF PLEATS

'Prettiness' Is Paris Fashion Theme

By SHEILA WALSH

PARIS (UPI) — The couturiers of Paris rehabilitated the word "pretty" in the vocabulary of fashion with their spring-summer collections.

With one week of high fashion showings for international buyers and press finished and another coming up, the Paris fashion message seemed to be one of feminine flattery.

THE COLLECTIONS were frankly aimed at "prettiness" a term that for many a season was considered a backhanded compliment equivalent to "she means well."

IT GOT ITS most prestigious confirmation from the Dior collection designed by Marc Bohan and acclaimed by the fashion experts as one of the most attractive he has ever done.

Designer Bohan shared the season's fondness for skirts in motion but kept his pleats and swirls under control — giving the impression that the movement was inspired by a gentle breeze rather than a wind tunnel.

The Indian tunic, snug-fitting across shoulder and bosom and often buttoned from collar to hem, provided an attractive theme that Bohan carried straight through into evening for the Dior collection.

He showed the tunic fingertip length and long sleeved over a wisp of street-length full skirt, or in 9-10ths length in a water color silk print with trailing tie neckline.

Curb-Painting In Terra Linda

The group painted house numbers on the curbs in front of homes in the Northgate area of Terra Linda last weekend and will continue the project each weekend until the $1,100 is raised.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Sometimes new mothers concentrate so hard on the technicalities of baby care they forget to enjoy their babies. Your delight in your baby is one of the great golden gifts you can give. The baby who is talked to (and laughed with) lovingly, develops security and sociability. The baby who is played with happily gains confidence early and learns invaluable lessons in co-operation.

Special story from Dan Gerber. "You would be amazed at the many checks we make and the precautions we take to guard the quality and nutritive value of your baby's food. Take the meat that goes into Gerber High Meat Dinners. It is government inspected before it enters our plants and after it reaches our plants. Then it must pass 15 tests. In addition to tests for color, odor and flavor, all meat is tested for fat, moisture and protein content to make sure it measures up to the nutritive requirements set for your baby. When you buy Gerber, you're sure of your money's worth in nourishment."

•

Golden rules for baby care. By-the-book rules are fine as guides but all rules do not fit all babies and any rule is only as good as its flexibility. Guides to good mothering: heed your doctor and your common-sensible head and lead with your heart. Happy is the baby whose mother makes adjustments for his (or her) individuality.

•

Growth patterns. Your baby grows much faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs protein aplenty to give that growth a boost. Gerber Strained Meats are high in protein, low in fat and ever so easy to digest. Points to remember:

- Gerber Meats are cooked by an exclusive process which preserves the utmost in nutritive values; insures a smooth moist texture.
- They're the products of two great specialists — Gerber, famous for fine baby foods and Armour, famous for fine meats. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Newlywed Michael L. Dolans Are Residing In San Rafael

Ines Marie Camacho of San Francisco, daughter of Mrs. Pedro De Camacho of Bogota, Colombia, and the late Dr. Camacho, became the bride of Michael Lewis Dolan of San Rafael at noon on Jan. 16 at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

The Rev. James P. Keane performed the double ring ceremony in which the bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Pedro Camacho of Bogota.

Ines wore a full length gown of white brocade with chapel train. Her maid of honor, Martha Saaredra of San Francisco, wore a full length deep pink satin dress. Constanza Mejia of San Francisco and Wendy Dolan of San Rafael, sister of the bridegroom, wore pale pink satin dresses.

Edward F. Dolan of San Rafael was best man for his brother-in-law and Elwood Rake of Novato and Michael Diaz of San Rafael ushered.

Following a reception held at Maple Lawn in San Rafael, the couple left for a wedding trip to Carmel. They will make their home in San Rafael.

The bridegroom, the son of Mrs. E. F. Dolan of San Rafael and the late Mr. Dolan, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School. He attended College of Marin and is in the trading department of Mitchum, Jones and Templeton, Inc., investments, in San Francisco. His grandmother is Mrs. Frank L. Viera of San Rafael.

To Entertain College Band

Tamalpais High School's student body and Parent-Teacher Assn. will entertain members of the 92-piece San Francisco State College band at dinner preceding its concert Thursday night in Ruby Scott auditorium.

Band members and their director, Dr. Edwin C. Kruth, will arrive by bus at 5 p.m. In groups of varying sizes they will be picked up and taken to the homes, where they will be guests for dinner. Some hosts have requested players of particular instruments in line with their own interests.

Figure the cost per serving when buying meat, the U. S. Department of Agriculture advises. Meat with lots of bone or fat allows one to two servings per pound; moderate bone or fat, two to three servings per pound; no bone and little fat, four servings per pound.

College Concert, Lecture Series On Firm Ground

A new college president and some members of the board of trustees launched the College Concert and Lecture Series, designed to give cultural and informational service to students, faculty and the public alike.

But from the standpoint of attendance, it was a shaky undertaking. It was disappointing and sometimes embarrassing to see nationally known lecturers and performers greeted by a mere handful of students and the public.

But the founders of the Concert and Lecture Series, far from giving up, expanded the Series into a year-round program of concerts, lectures, films and other fine arts events.

Today, the performances run better than once a month. Once empty Olney Hall on the Kentfield campus is now packed almost to capacity. In fact, some of the recent performances drew standing-room-only crowds.

Herbert Blanchett, administrative assistant to College President Stephen Epler, reports that the concert series now has a patronage list of 3,500 Marin residents who have indicated interest in receiving news of events in the series.

Scan through some of the performances listed on the series, and you don't wonder at the recent jump in attendance.

The Series has brought to Marin such notables as the late British author Aldous Huxley, psychoanalyst Erich Fromm, physicist Dr. Edward Teller, commentator William Winter, pianist Istvan Nadas and several concert and musical groups.

Who are on tap for February and March this year, for example?

On Feb. 6—Dr. J. B. Rhine, "Glimpses of a New World of the Mind."

Feb. 7—Violinist Charles Meacham.

Feb. 18—Bach to Mozart Players.

March 21—Marin Arts Quartet.

In addition, a varied film fare includes such movies as "Mein Kampf," "First Soviet Earth Satellite," "Pre-Colombian Mexican Art," "Treasure of the Sierra Madre," and others.

Almost all events are held in Olney Hall. All are free, except the films, which are self-supported by students and whose proceeds go into scholarships and continuation of the series.

The College concert series committee deserves public commendation, first for arranging a balanced cultural diet of such quality, and secondly, for refusing to give up during the first faltering years when attendance was so disappointing.

The concert series richly deserves the increasing public attention that is being focussed on it in recent months.

GOP Assemblymen Vote To Cut Disability Insurance Benefits

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The 31-member Republican caucus in the State Assembly has voted unanimously for a plan which would refinance the state's disability insurance fund by lopping off benefits, rather than increasing employee contributions.

The Department of Employment said the fund, which presently is supported by contributions of workers of 1 per cent of their first $5,600 in wages each year, would be broke by April 1.

THE DEMOCRATIC administration has proposed, through AB 241 by Assemblyman George N. Zenovich (D-Fresno), to bail out the fund by increasing contributions to 1.1 per cent of the first $7,500 of annual salary.

Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan (R - Tracy), GOP floor leader in the Assembly, and Assemblyman Howard J. Thelin (-Glendale), head of a Republican committee studying the problem, have proposed an alternate plan.

"OUR PLAN primarily would preserve the solvency of the fund until the Legislature has time to make an in-depth study," Thelin said. "We're trying to buy time — perhaps six months. We'd like to protect the steady worker against another tax increase because he's going to have enough of a burden to bear this year."

Generally, the Republican plan would balance and restore the D. I. fund by removing a number of present recipients from the plan. Those removed would be part-time workers, seasonal workers, or those who earn very low amounts of money.

"At the present time under the unemployment disability program, an individual with part-time employment, earning $25 per month, can now qualify for benefits of $25 per week, for as long as 26 weeks," Thelin said.

1. To qualify, a person would have to earn at least $600 in a base quarter, rather than the present minimum of $300.

2. Benefits to any one claimant in a single period of disability could not amount to more than 50 per cent of the base period wages on which the benefits were awarded.

3. The 75 per cent and 30 times test would be instituted in the law. This would mean a person would not be qualified for disability insurance benefits based on one quarter's earnings if he made more than 75 per cent of his total annual wages in that one quarter. In addition, a claimant would not be eligible unless his total earnings for the year were more than 30 times his weekly benefit.

THELIN SAID the plan could be financed by retaining the 1 per cent employee contribution rate, and increasing the wage base for contributions to $6,500, rather than $7,500 as provided in the Zenovich bill.

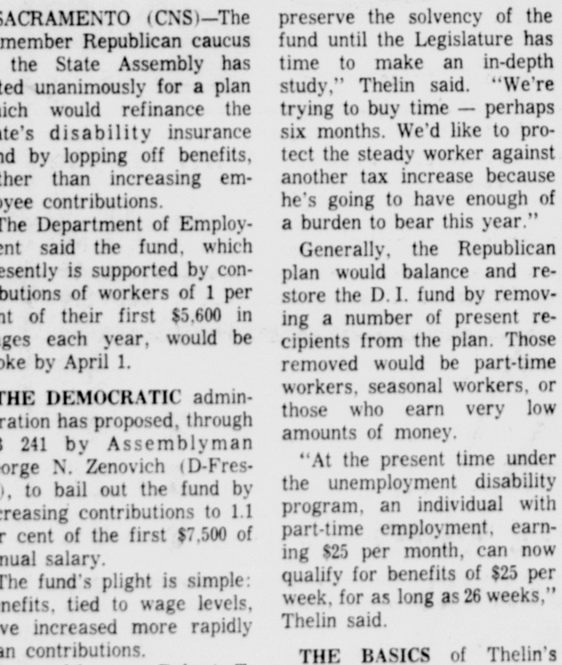

Monagan said the members of the caucus voted unanimously for the Thelin plan. He would not comment on whether all 31 Republicans would vote against the Zenovich bill without the changes proposed by Thelin.

The Zenovich bill is being handled on an urgency basis and would take immediate effect, if enacted. However, such urgency bills require a two-thirds vote in both houses. Thus the Assembly Republicans could block the bill if they chose.

MONAGAN SAID he expected the GOP plan would be opposed by organized labor.

"The unions intended to cooperate with the Department of Employment to bail out the fund because they wanted benefits to continue," he said. "They quietly skirted telling the employees that it was a tax increase, planning to do that only after it was an accomplished fact."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

What's In A Name? Plenty

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a daily subscriber to the Independent-Journal, I feel I have the right to voice a complaint which I feel is justified. On two consecutive occasions you have managed to misspell my name which, in my estimation, is a ridiculous error. Recently, my engagement announcement was put in your paper — my name is BRYON and not Byron as you put it. Tonight my issued marriage license also appeared in your paper and again you printed Byron, instead of the correct Bryon.

I feel everyone has pride in their name, I know I do, and they should be entitled to correct spelling. Needless to say, my marriage is a serious thing to me and yet each time you have linked my fiancee's name with one other than my own. I cannot understand the difficulty that Bryon seems to encounter. In the future I hope you will take the necessary time to give accuracy to your paper.

Thank you for hearing me out.

Corte Maderan Backs NWP Plan

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It would seem that the impasse between Northwestern Pacific Railroad and various public agencies and civic organizations has reached a state of, "Why? Because I say so." The mundane and practical questions as to the necessity for NWP operation in southern Marin; whether revenues to the NWP will meet operating expenses insofar as present and potential heavy industry is concerned; the needs of various municipalities to acquire portions of the present right-of-way for highway widening and other purposes, and other like questions are largely ignored.

I, for one, would welcome an abandonment. To see a weed riddled, poison oak flourishing, debris dumping right-of-way practically at one's door in the midst of one of the finest residential areas in Corte Madera is something I can do without. I sincerely hope that MWP will see fit to circulate some petitions in Corte Madera.

An Answer To Mr. Henington

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am writing this letter in reference to one written by J. K. Henington and published by you on Jan. 26. . . . Mr. Henington says communism should be treated as malaria in that the carrying agent should be exterminated. Then, he proceeds to cite examples of communists convicted by the H. U. A. C. and in some cases executed (Alger Hiss, the Rosenbergs). To begin with this is a rather faulty analogy in that these people were not spreading communism as the common mosquito transmits malaria to its victim, but stealing from their victims. To equate these criminals with teachers in our schools who try to give their students legitimate evaluations of both communistic and capitalistic ideologies is facetious. . . .

Communism . . . is finding that it cannot face the problems of the modern world in its purest form and is also changing accordingly. The two ideologies may be likened to the opposite extremes of hot and cold—life cannot live naturally at either extreme but seeks a position of stability somewhere in between. . . . If we as Americans wish to remain on the capitalistic side of the norm, we must always have the ability to meet the problems of our times and change accordingly. . . .

As for Mr. Henington's statement that social and political injustice do not facilitate the growth of communism, here again we find a rash judgment. Four out of 10 people in the world have already renounced capitalism in favor of communism and undoubtedly there will be more soon. . . .

Capitalism, the stalwart of laissez-faire business practices, can do no more than give aid, while communism can offer to a man a completely new social order immediately, maybe not liberty, but what is liberty to the man who has never experienced it —a man who is hungry?

This is the social injustice which gives communism an upper hand over capitalism, Mr. Henington. We of the affluent society have no fear of communism if we know what it is—and our teachers are giving their students this knowledge. . . .

Rancher Shouldn't Have Shot Eagles

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have never seen a Gold Eagle in the wild; I wonder how many of your readers have.

The Bald Eagle, our national bird, has been fully protected by federal law in the United States for 25 years. It feeds for the most part upon fish, carrion and small mammals. "On rare occasions the Eagle has been known to pick up a hen or to destroy a young lamb but these are not common offenses." ("Birds of America." Edited by Pearson.) It is no longer common anywhere in our country; its increasing rarity and its probable extinction in the continental United States are caused by sterility resulting from its eating fish which have been killed by pesticides.

In Marin County this beautiful bird is a rare winter visitor to the Point Reyes area. It has been seen only five times in the last six years, and it was an ironical cause for rejoicing at the annual Christmas Bird Count this year that two Bald Eagles were seen on Tomales Bay for the first time since we have been keeping records.

Last Monday one of those two birds, as well as a Golden Eagle, another protected species, were shot by a Point Reyes rancher. I hope the Federal Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife will impose the penalties the law provides.

President Proposes Knocking Electoral College Out Window

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson proposes knocking the electoral college, as used in American history, out the window. The reason: To prevent thwarting voters in their choice of president and vice president.

Under the present system the electors who make up the electoral college are free to name anyone they please for president, no matter whom the voters cast the most ballots for.

THERE'S NOTHING in the Constitution which says they can't. In fact, Alexander Hamilton thought this was the big virtue of the electoral system, since he thought the electors would be wiser than most citizens.

Since 1796 the electors have been hardly more than puppets, simply voting as the people in their states indicated on election day. There have been a few exceptions. In any election there could be a lot.

Johnson wants to prevent any. So he suggested to Congress last Thursday a constitutional amendment eliminating individual electors but retaining the electoral college.

EACH STATE NOW is entitled to as many electors as it has representatives and senators in Congress. And, traditionally, the presidential candidate getting the most popular votes in a state gets all its electoral votes.

Johnson would retain the arrangement giving a state as many electoral votes as it has representatives and senators. But he'd add this to the Constitution:

A state would have to cast all its electoral votes—it would have no choice—for the candidate getting the most popular votes. In this way there would be no need for electors. And therefore no chance for them to cross up the voters.

WHILE THIS MAY BE an improvement on the present undisciplined system of individual electors, it won't please everyone, particularly those who believe candidates should be elected on the basis of total popular votes alone.

AND, IF THERE is no majority of the electoral vote for a vice presidential candidate, the Senate does the electing from the top three.

Johnson suggests that if a case like either of these arises, then the House and Senate together do the electing.

Then suppose this happens: The electoral college formally elects a president and vice president but the president-to-be dies before taking office. What happens? Does the vice president automatically become president? No.

THE ELECTORAL college is free to choose a president without regard for what the popular election showed. Johnson wants the vice president-elect in such circumstances to become president when the new term begins.

If, turning that same situation around, the vice president-elect died before taking office, Johnson wants the new president to pick a vice president to serve with him, provided, however, that Congress approves.

This arrangement is already provided for in another constitutional amendment which has been banging around in Congress for many months and seems likely to be approved this year and then sent to the states for ratification.

THIS SAME proposed amendment — introduced by Sen. Birch Bayh (D-Ind.) and 75 other senators as co-sponsors — would also take care of presidential disability and has Johnson's full approval.

It covers the old question: How does a vice president take over if a president is unable to do his job but doesn't realize it or refuses to admit it?

Johnson made his support for Bayh's amendment the main point in his message proposing the amendment on the electoral college.

New Mystery Probed In Jenkins Case

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—A new Walter Jenkins mystery is intriguing Senate investigators.

It involves an apparently abandoned automobile registered as belonging to the LBJ Co., which operates the Austin, Tex., TV-radio properties owned by the president's family, and a receipt for gasoline bought with Jenkins' credit card the same day the car was found.

OTHER DETAILS of this still-unexplained affair—in the hands of the Senate Rules Committee, which has subpoenaed Jenkins for questioning in its protracted on-again-off-again Bobby Baker investigation—are as follows:

Early last month, U. S. Park Police found an unoccupied automobile on a shoulder of the Baltimore-Washington expressway. The car was in good condition, and there was no indication of an accident or any other untoward incident. Everything pointed to its having been deliberately left by the roadside.

CAPPING THIS jolter was the discovery of a receipt in the glove compartment indicating that Jenkins' credit card had been used to purchase gasoline that same day —presumably for the car.

The park police immediately notified the Secret Service and were told to await further instructions.

Within an hour, the Secret Service directed the park police to leave the car where it was, to see that nothing in it was disturbed, and that one of its agents would shortly come and get it.

THAT WAS the last seen or heard of the auto, or anything about it.

Inquiries brought the information that the "matter is considered closed," and that the White House wanted nothing further said about it.

REASON IS THAT at the time it occurred the investigators were trying to locate the one-time close assistant of the president to serve him with a subpoena to come before them for questioning.

Jenkins' doctors had advised the committee he was still too ill to testify.

Only clue so far ascertained is that Jenkins has retained an attorney—Peyton Ford, deputy attorney general in the Truman administration.

LUCI BAINES JOHNSON, teen-age daughter of the president, is telling classmates she is seriously thinking of enrolling in the Georgetown University Nursing School when she graduates from high school this spring. The noted Catholic university has one of the best hospitals in the capital.

The president is telling congressional leaders he wants them to wind up the session by Labor Day, "at the latest."

Rex Harrison Is One Dropout Who Made Out Well In Life

NEW YORK (AP)—All school dropouts have the same problem — finding a job suited to their ability.

Rex Harrison is one dropout who seems to have solved the problem satisfactorily. Forty years after he quit the halls of learning at 16 to join a Liverpool repertory company, his services in a play or film now command a small fortune—or a large one.

At 56, happily married to British actress Rachel Roberts and practically certain of an Academy Award nomination for his performance in "My Fair Lady," Rex is riding on cloud No. 9.

It is a pleasure to see an Englishman enjoy himself, particularly in this generation. And when Harrison enjoys himself, he lets go all the way. He chuckles, removes his horn-rimmed glasses, then throws his head back and roars in laughter like a schoolboy.

The lanky actor has become almost a living synonym for urbane charm and debonair sophistication.

"I've found the real sophisticates generally live in the most simple manner. They find that life more satisfactory," he said.

"Sophistication is a misnomer. It sounds like you are always drinking champagne poured by servants. I'm not that way at all. I usually draw my own cork.

"Rachel and I live quite simply in our villa at Portofino on the Italian Riviera. We have a caretaker and a gardener, but my wife does a lot of the cooking.

"I never put on a tie there. There's no reason to. Nobody else does. It's very, very comfortable and completely casual. I haven't really liked night clubs for years and years. Actually, I couldn't say whether I'm sophisticated or not."

"My philosophy? It's quite simple: Live for the moment — tomorrow is for dying."

Floral Explosion Afflicts Marin Residents With Traditional Fever

WITH THE FIRST warm, sunny days after the deluge of rain, north Marin suddenly seems alive with spring. The early-blooming iris, Chinese lilies and other spring flowers suddenly became conspicuous. Those huge balls of solid sunshine which we call acacia trees paint the landscape with their vivid color.

After such as session of rain and dark weather as we have had, the first nice days tend to give everyone a touch of spring fever.

The old Novato Unified School District's trustees at a recent meeting authorized hiring two replacement teachers and two new ones for the overload for the balance of the school year.

Supt. James G. Bunker said that he thought the district could fill the vacancies by mid-term graduates.

AFTER SITTING through many Novato City Council meetings in the poorly lighted room for several years, it was a welcome relief to find the room brilliantly lighted with new rows of fluorescent tubes.

This is part of the refurbishing job now being done on the Community House. This work was promised to the community when the city took over the building four years ago. It was delayed by the purchase of the Presbyterian Church properties and remodeling them into city offices.

The Community House has long been overdue for some work. It is a shame that the work was not completed by the city's fifth birthday on Jan. 20, but it was not.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget made a big show at last Tuesday's council meeting of paying off a wager to Mayor Robert D. Carrow. He and Carrow had made a one-dollar wager on the number of people attending the city's open house on its fifth birthday. Carrow had said that there would be more city employees than visitors—he won.

THERE ARE THOSE who said that the champagne flowed like water at the open house of the Novato Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday night when it opened its new quarters in the Locke Plumbing building.

There were so many people there that some champagne did get spilled on the floor by people bumping into each other.

We don't know how thick this was before the party was over, but . . . we can swear that the next morning we saw a man on the roof of the building mopping it dry.

ALMANAC

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

Violin virtuoso Jasha Heifitz was born on this day in 1901.

On this day in history:

In 1848, Mexico signed a treaty giving Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California to the United States for 15 million dollars.

In 1876, eight baseball teams banded together to form the National League.

In 1943, Radio Berlin acknowledged the end of the Battle of Stalingrad, a seige in which the Russians claimed 503,000 Germans were killed or wounded.

In 1953, President Dwight D. Eisenhower announced that the U. S. Seventh Fleet would no longer block Chinese Nationalist raids from Formosa against the mainland.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Slam Depends On Right Singleton When Playing

Perhaps Sheardown was lucky that dummy showed up with the right king, but the bidding was instructive even if a trifle bold.

Opening lead — ◇ K

Elliott, with the North hand, could see a reasonable chance for slam at hearts as soon as he heard the opening bid of one heart.

CLUBS INSTEAD

It would be enough if South held nothing but K-Q of hearts and A-K of diamonds, but not if South had his A-K in clubs instead of diamonds.

There was no need for North to guess which high cards his partner had. North could solve the problem by describing his own hand. South would then know whether or not the partnership had a good "fit."

North accomplished his mission by bidding diamonds and spades, after which he jumped in hearts.

THREE SUITS

Powerful bidding in three suits shows shortness in the fourth suit, so North described a hand with good heart support, slam ambition, and only a singleton in clubs.

Sheardown knew he might have trouble if North had the king of diamonds rather than the king of spades, but he knew that the singleton club was pure gold.

His jump to slam was bold, but justified.

NORMAL LEAD

West made the normal lead of the king of diamonds, then shifted to a trump. Sheardown won the trump in dummy with the jack and ruffed a diamond. He cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club in dummy and ruffed another diamond.

Declarer continued the plan by ruffing another club with dummy's ace of trumps and ruffing still another diamond in his own hand.

This dropped the ace, so that Sheardown could draw the last trumps and get to dummy with a spade to discard a club on the queen of diamonds.

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, covering 2 out of 3 homes in the County!!
- The I-J daily circulation is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner Combined!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

home BUYERS in Southern Marin are ALREADY living in Marin County by a ratio of more than 2 to 1

(than from San Francisco)

Latest Research* shows that 65.9% of home buyers in Southern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	65.9
San Francisco	31.9

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent - Journal, covering 2 out of every 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Pemphigus: Serious Skin Disease Causing Blisters As Big As Eggs

VAN DELLEN

Pemphigus is a serious skin disease that is difficult to understand and treat. Some forms are fatal. For no apparent reason, blisters form in crops on perfectly normal skin. They rupture and crusts cover the surface shortly thereafter. The open lesions are extremely painful.

The blisters (bullae) vary in size from that of a pea to an egg and appear on any part of the body. The face, neck, mouth, and genitals are favorite sites, and occasionally the lesions are generalized. In the early stages of the disorder, the victim is up and about but becomes more disabled as the eruption spreads. Fever and weakness occur and the open lesions in the mouth make eating and drinking unpleasant.

BULLAE ARISE in crops and often remain months after rupturing, during which time they show no tendency to heal. They disappear finally and the individual has long periods of comparative freedom from the outbreak. Recurrences are common.

The cause is not known. In the normal individual, a sort of cement holds together the upper and lower layers of skin. This does not work in pemphigus and the upper layer is easily peeled away from the surface. Large pieces of skin can be pulled off by pinching with the thumb and index finger.

THE CORTICOSTEROIDS changed the outlook of this disease. They are used indefinitely by many victims. The signs of the disease may disappear for so long a period, cure is considered. The antibiotics are needed when the lesions become infected.

Sprays containing an anesthetic solution (2 per cent procaine hydrochloride) or steroids help relieve the pain of open or raw lesions. Several gargles are available to relieve mouth distress. Baths are recommended to soften and remove the crusts so ointments can be applied. Hexachlorophene frequently is added to the water. In many instances, bathing minimizes the odor originating in the lesions.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

COUGH AFTER A COLD

H. L. writes: I have a bronchial cough which developed after a cold. One of my friends says the next step is tuberculosis. Is this likely?

REPLY

CLENCHED JAWS

R. W. writes: What would cause periodic clenching of the jaws during waking hours?

REPLY

Habit, tic, or a response to tension. The person may be unaware of this tightening until he makes a conscious attempt to relax.

Captain Awarded Airman's Medal

The Airman's Medal was presented last week to Capt. Leonard R. Howard of the 78th Air Force Hospital at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Captain Howard received the medal for risking his life near Stockton last May 17 when he and two other Air Force officers rescued a passenger trapped in a car in a ditch filled with gasoline and water.

Assembly Group Name Changed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh has changed the name of the Assembly Fish and Game Committee to the Wildlife and Conservation Committee.

He said yesterday that this would give the committee "more scope" to deal with wildlife problems.

Completes Course

Airman 2/c John M. Dreschsel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Drechsel of 316 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, has completed the training course for bomb navigation systems mechanics at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo. He has been transferred to Walker Air Force Base, N.M.

A.F. Will Close Tracking Station

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The missile-tracking station on San Salvador Island will be closed, and 300 employes will be dropped from the Air Force Eastern Test Range payroll in an economy move.

The Air Force made the announcement yesterday. Affected will be 170 employes of Pan American World Airways and 130 of Radio Corp. of America. The dollar saving was not announced.

Belvedere Planners Due Slope Policy

The Belvedere Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the community hall to continue discussion of a new slope policy.

The city council has adopted an interim slope policy and an ordinance controlling small subdivisions to be effective for four months until the planning commission recommends a permanent policy.

Crowded Classes On Agenda In Hub

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District will discuss again the problem of crowded classes tonight, with a warning from Supt. Stephen Parodi that at least eight classes next fall will be on double sessions unless portable classrooms are used.

Colonel Rigby served as a platoon leader and company commander with the 802nd Tank Destroyer Battalion through three campaigns in Europe during World War II. He left the Army in 1946, was recalled in 1950 and flew 260 combat missions as an artillery air observer in Korea.

Vehicle Deadline Is Set Thursday

Thursday is the deadline for renewing vehicle registrations for 1965. Penalty charges will be added to the registration fee if vehicle owners apply for renewals after the deadline.

The State Department of Motor Vehicles will accept mailed applications without penalty if they are postmarked no later than Thursday, according to Tom Bright, director.

Vehicle owners in Marin County who did not receive a 1965 renewal statement card should take their 1964 registration cards to the Department of Motor Vehicles offices at 1926 Fourth Street, San Rafael, which is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

College Board Due Concert, Lecture Plan

A proposal for a much-expanded College of Marin concert and lecture series, with 30 programs per year, will be before the college's board of trustees at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in room 24 of Harlan Hall on the Kentfield campus.

The larger series of cultural events is proposed by a concert-lecture series committee comprising Ellsworth R. Briggs, dean of adult education; Roy Mikalson, assistant dean of instruction, and C. B. Weber, English professor.

The committee asks board permission for three events each month—two "major" and one "lesser one"—for 10 months of each year. It recommends a budget for next fiscal year of $15,000.

The proposed series would include such attractions as the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, Oakland Symphony Orchestra and San Francisco Ballet, and such lecturers as Max Lerner, Henry Steele Commager, Carey McWilliams, et al.

It proposes that admission be charged for the major concerts but that the remaining events be free to the public—as the concert-lecture series programs are—and paid for from the college district's community services fund tax.

In another recommendation, the committee asks the board to grant it "freedom to plan the speakers and concerts without the sometimes unfortunate delay caused by a wait for approval by the board of individual items."

Senate Group Approves Plan For Succession

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee has approved an administration-backed constitutional amendment which would fill vice-presidential vacancies and insure leadership if a president becomes disabled.

The measure now goes to the Senate Judiciary Committee. If that body acts soon enough, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he'll try to get a full Senate vote late this week.

Judge Rejects Amnesty Appeal

BERKELEY (AP)—Municipal Judge Rupert Crittenden, in the midst of processing cases against December 3 sit-in demonstrators at the University of California, has rejected an appeal for amnesty from 15 religious groups.

The judge declined to accept a petition from the Berkeley groups, on the grounds the petition raised no point of law.

The judge turned down a petition last week from a group of UC professors who asked charges be dropped against more than 700 students and others arrested in a sit-in for the right to campaign on campus for political and social causes.

Of the 476 newspapers which have appared in Turkey since Mustapha Kemal Ataturk changed the Turkish alphabet from Arabic to the Latin alphabet in 1928, only 14 survive today.

TELEVISION REVIEW

It's Show Business For Sports, Too

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Remember when people used to laugh at professional wrestling on television? How could anyone, it was smugly asked, believe or take seriously a sport that employed such obvious show business devices? How could you completely trust the doings of any such sport? Who's laughing now?

Professional wrestling was away ahead of its time. There is hardly a sport that has allowed itself to be exposed to television that has not gone the show business route. And all those that have, have little right to sneer at pro wrestling. They are the imitators—sophisticated imitators perhaps, but imitators.

Athletes are wired for sound, sports introduce adjusted formats to fit into the framework of television. Only the utterly naive can believe, for instance, that being on camera, or being wired, has no effect at all on competing athletes in their speech, attitudes — and therefore inevitably at times on their abilities. One network even wants to reduce the baseball schedule to only weekends, for show business effect to heighten interest and make it more saleable — and don't rule out any possibility when big money is involved.

The inevitable erosion of privacy by television leads the way as all around us show business effects blend more and more into reality, thereby diluting it. One child expert, writing of video, says youngsters seek reality in illusion, and especially nowadays for many hours a day in the illusions of television.

When a television series pretends to explore a social problem and then, because of limits or saleability interest, offers only an illusory answer, or a half-truth solution, or a patently false one, who can estimate the fantastic damage that stems from a show business approach to realities? What happens when the real world smacks one in the face?

Television newsmen will tell you frankly that show business is necessary to consider when one selects attractive looking broadcasters as opposed to others. What is it but show business when a television station advertises the news to come during an afternoon movie? Is it news, or is it an ad, or is it show business? Does a newspaper tell you to wait for a breaking story until tomorrow?

This is the era of the great put-on. Such philosophical questions as "what is truth?" are now every-minute problems on television. It is a nightmare. One could drown in a sea of show business. A dream: Some day a young televiewer will grow up to be a world political figure. Someone somewhere will threaten to drop the bomb. Our boy will reply, "you're just putting me on." And someone will drop the bomb.

Behan's Widow Says He Left Little Money

DUBLIN (UPI)—Brendan Behan's widow said today he left her so little money that she is converting their home into apartments to provide a regular income from rent.

Mrs. Behan scoffed at reports that a total of $244,000 in royalties from her husband's works were on deposit in American banks.

"The truth is I had to raise money in a Dublin bank to pay off some of our debts in the United States," she said. "There's not a dollar due me in America."

Mrs. Behan has a young daughter.

Cape Kennedy Walkout Ends

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The majority of 3,800 building trades workers were expected back on the job today, ending a five-day walkout that held up $201 million in vital space construction at the U.S. moonport.

Business agents of 18 AFL-CIO unions said every effort would be made to spread the back-to-work word.

The decision came last night after the President's Missile Sites Labor Commission set a date to hear complaints registered by the unions against the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The dispute involves which union should do assembly work on moon rocket transporters.

Johnsons Planning Party Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson launch the 1965 White House social season tonight with a state dinner honoring Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Chief Justice Earl Warren and House Speaker John W. McCormack.

About 175 persons were invited to the black tie dinner at the executive mansion — the first public social event for the Johnsons since they were hospitalized with colds on Jan. 23.

San Anselmo Park Director To Report

San Anselmo's new parks and recreation director, Andrew Snyder, will report for work Feb. 15, City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt reported today.

Snyder was expected to start this week when the city council hired him Jan. 18. He is resigning as superintendent of parks and recreation for the Tehachapi Recreation District.

Variety Show Set Saturday

Members of the Terra Linda Little Theater will try to evoke memories of the old fashioned variety show when they present "A Night of Fun for All" at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the Terra Linda Community Center.

The center will be decorated like a beer garden for the show, featuring 13 singing, dancing and instrumental acts, directed by pianist Leonard Jared of San Francisco.

Also on the program will be an auction of works by local artists, as well as other items.
